EDITORIAL

A compromising independence: in his poem, The Waste Land, T. S. Eliot advocates "Datta . . . Dayedhiram . . . Damyata"—the three commands of the thunder. The quality of independence is a compromise of all three—giving, sympathising, showing self-control. Especially does the paradox of a compromising independence apply to a seventh form. Examination of this idea is an integral part of the study of the seventh form situation; a major contemporary educational inadequacy, it is triggered by transition.

Preconceptions are regularly misconceptions. Some such misconceptions accompany the transition from the secondary to the tertiary (phase). In regarding the seventh form year as a "trial run" for university, seventh formers look for symptoms to indicate the loosening of the bond with the school and with its tradition, the symptoms of the "blissful state of permanent exemption". However, because of the more formidable challenge the university year poses, the incentive it inspires contributes towards its relatively greater success.

Evolving is the concept of the "need for incentive", the absent ingredient, the integral component. Here, the education system is at fault. The aim of the majority is Higher School Certificate: the ratio of financial benefit to effort required for the Bursary is such as to discourage rather than encourage those requiring that extra effort. The award of the Certificate, however, is almost automatic. Students camouflage themselves in the security of the award with as much complacency as the pessimism with which they regard their chances in the examination. For the majority of students there exists a total lack of incentive.

Ideally, the need for incentive should be a declining one—one supposes that this was the outlook of the education authority. The problem then rests with decreasing the present reliance upon incentive, by increasing the rate of mental and psychological maturation. Since maturity is a gradual process, this rate must be being suppressed in the lower school. What is the function of the lower school? Too often we are unconscious of function; function of teacher, subject, or even function of education. Teachers have often failed in their objective of mental stimulation because of a communication difficulty. Inspection of the classroom situation reveals that the usually defined "pool of ideas" is, in most cases, barely a puddle. This is obviously inadequate. Emergent is the lack of independence and the blanket of conformity engulfing contemporary youth. It is a "conformity in non-conformity", a conformity, nevertheless, which is just as suppressively restrictive. Independence means a shedding of this cloak. Independence leads to a fuller participation in the classroom and develops a greater mental maturity. In that the pooling of ideas is an integration of thought, this independence must be a compromising one.

OPPOSITE S.B.H.S.

DIARY - FIRST TERM

FEBRUARY

Tues. 2: School commences . . .

"He was sent as usual to a public school where a little learning was painfully beaten into him."—T. L. Peacock.

Indications are that teachers have taken advantage of both the holiday break and the increasingly permissive society: Mr. Basher sports an unpatriotic Russian beard, while Mr. Williams brandished a Genghis Khan. Several other masters still in their first days of pregnancy.

Wed. 3: Despite all attempts at sabotage by the able English duo of McIntosh and Berridge, the book-room is shifted, complete with library shelves, to Room 2.

Meanwhile Mr. Duerden has congenial problems with the stationery issue.

"There seem to be too many people in here with too many things."

Thurs. 4: Fiasco continues.

Textbooks slowly issued to school.

Meanwhile, 3rd Form sports are held under the close scrutiny of the 7th Form. Potential prefects rush to assist.

"If all the year were playing holidays, to sport would be as tedious as to work."—Shakespeare.

Fri. 5: School begins to be school. It is rumoured that a timetable is shortly to appear.

"I would sooner read a timetable or a catalogue than nothing at all."—W. Somerset Maugham.

Mr. Jones is farewelled as he begins to feel his way into the newly-formed "Business College". After condoning his son's "occasional misdemeanours" he reassures the School: "Take it from me, education is a good thing. And make no mistake, this School is the best in Southland."

Tues. 9: Assemblies begin. Mr. Cornwell officially welcomes new staff members, the consequence being the decided bias of lower fifths towards art.

Wed. 10: A.F.S. student Bob Haverty is officially welcomed to the School and addresses Senior Assembly.

Thurs. 11: Voting for prefects.

"Democracy substitutes election by the incompetent many for the appointment by the corrupt few."—G. Bernard Shaw.

Wed. 17: Prefects are announced in Assembly whilst at the same time they are told they have no "abode".

"I had a home once . . ."—from "The Widow".—Southey.

Fri. 19: A new system of timetabling is introduced whereby eight periods are "eked out" of both Wednesday and Thursday.

"Then seek your job with thankfulness and work till further orders if it's only netting strawberries or killing slugs on borders."—Kipling.

MARCH

Wed. 3: Because of Invercargill's Centennial Parade, the School celebrates a half holiday. Bugden's effort on the float carried the day for the First XI.

Mr. Williams advises 7th Form History: "It would be a good chance to get some work done fellas."

Thurs. 4: The School is reminded of the sports to be held the following week and are advised to do some training. As a result, two eager athletes are seen practising (in a deluge) on the athletic track. Ballantyne shirks double Chemistry to do a lap of the park for his training (" . . . the corrupt few" . . .)

Mon. 8: School Athletic Sports start in fine weather.

"On the track" there are no sensations but in operating a well-patronised refreshment "bar", the prefects ensure a first term of prosperity. Despite such announcements as "Auntie is still cycling across the Tasman", Mr. Turvey's commentating prowess is once again, never seriously challenged.

Tues. 9: Auntie stops cycling as heavy rain falls in the early part of the morning. However, sports continue. Mills provides the major upset of the day in winning the 400 Metres. Mr. Alabaster was overheard commenting: "Those cigarettes can't have done him too much harm." The usual interest was shown in the Girls' High prefects who attended the afternoon session and were treated to afternoon tea in the staff room. However, they were soundly beaten in the Relay with our prefects.

Thurs. 11: Girls' High "Shipwreck Dance" held to the sound of the "High and Dry". Such characters as "Chief Chips" and "Love Thy Neighbour" provided amusement. As feared, "shipwreck" suffered varying interpretations.

Fri. 12: Prefects attend Girls' High sports at Surrey Park and are tricked into a sack race.

"Have I not sacks to sew up wives withal."—Wm. Thackeray.

Mon. 15: "Anti-hair week" begins. All the bearded teachers have had a preparatory trim.

Tues. 16: Mr. Martin employs the psychological approach with the senior assembly in pointing out the many disadvantages of long hair. First XI perform very creditably against O.B.H.S. at Littlebourne.

Fri. 19: Mr. Cornwell accepts the reasoning "en farce" and leads by example, exterminating many budding hairs as he reverts to the conventional "Kiwi cut".

Mon. 22: The Rector is applauded in assembly for informing the Senior School "that it's pretty difficult to stick to your guns."

"I cleaned my gun when I left Galverston."—Contemp.

Tues. 23: Inter-school cricket begins against K.H.S. Probable S.B.H.S. victory thwarted by weather on the second day.

Fri. 26: Mr. Waterston comments on boys who wear ties around their navels, "You've got hot pants."—Contemp.

Mon. 29: The "new" constitution is discussed by 6A in conjunction with the indifferent 7th Form. First prefects' meeting is held.

APRIL

Fri. 2nd: Seen by anonymous hostel seventh formers at 3.05 p.m. one D. J. McLean furiously pumping up bike tyres in order to catch the 3.00 p.m. bus.
"God's finger touched him and he slept."—Tennyson.

Mon. 5: Scene: Room 22. Time: 1.35 p.m., i.e. 5 minutes into 7A's Maths. period.
Smith arrives late, excusing himself with "I've slept in, sir!"
Mr. Alabaster asks him with a sardonic smile, "Is that true, Smith?"
"Yes, sir," Smith assures him.

Wed. 7: McBride misses another double of 7 Add. Maths. to open Easter celebrations.

Thurs. 15: Messrs. McIntosh and G. Alabaster outline the Work Day. Target—$3,000.
"And none shall work for money, and none shall work for fame."—Kipling.

Sat. 17: First XV's bottle drive, to raise funds for its northern tour, was not as successful as was hoped.
Another is planned.
"Leave the bottle on the chimney-piece."—Dickens.

Tues. 20: Voting for School Council. Alas, there be but five names.

"Democracy is on trial in the world, on a more colossal scale than ever before."—Anon.

Thurs. 22: Rumours of a new underground newspaper circulate. Some say it will be called, of all things, "Tooth".

Tues. 27: Mr. Thyne didn't wear his flares today.

Thurs. 29: Swimming Sports held in Conon Street pool.
Due to the unconventional warfare on the part of an anonymous master, half the hostel nearly drowns.

MAY

Tues. 4: Work day.

Wed. 5: Tooth is sold. Distributing staff mobbed at Girls' High by screaming fourth formers. They are reluctant to pose for photographs.

"Newspapers always excite curiosity. No one ever lays one down without a feeling of disappointment."—Charles Lamb.

Thurs. 6: Auditions held for Mr. McIntosh's "Ned Kelly".

"If we run we're done: our only chance is to fight."—Ned Kelly.

Fri. 7: End of term.

Tues. 25: School recommences.

"You can't expect a boy to be depraved until he's been to a good school."—H. H. Munro.

DIARY - SECOND TERM

JUNE

Wed. 2: Mr. Williams passes on his undoubtedly knowledge of the rugby field. "If a joker slips past you on the football field, you don't get out your slide-rule and say 'I've missed him'."

Thurs. 3: Fourth Form dance held under prefect supervision.

"It's hard to control yourself with girls around."—A. S. Ballantyne.

Sat. 5: First XV's bottle drive. More choose to ignore Dickens' as it is more successful.

Fri. 11: Nothing extraordinary happens this week except that, for the first time, both Woodley and Redpath attend every French period.

Wed. 16: Inter-school visit from O.B.H.S. First XV unlucky not to win as game ends in 12-12 draw.

Mon. 21: Exams begin.

"Examinations are formidable even to the best prepared, for the greatest may ask more than the wisest man can answer."

Mon. 28: Exam. marks trickle back. 7A get their Maths. marks back. Forrest is hopelessly beaten by the "wrong'un" and bowled for a duck.

Tues. 29: Mr. Williams advises: "There'll be no feeder buses today, fellas, so bring your bibs."

Wed. 30: Waitaki visit. This time 1st XV fortunate in managing a draw (9-9). Sandy Carmichael visits the School, battered from the Canterbury game.

"Forget that I had to go home. The Lions came to play rugby and rugby is a sport for sportsmen." Mr. Bennett and Mr. Preece support the Lions in lyric.

JULY

Fri. 2: Work day takings finalised.

"Look on my works, ye Mighty, and despair."—Shelley.

Mon. 12: Reports issued. Manson's second bottom in 7th Physics A, is accorded the remark "Working solidly."

Thurs. 16: 7A Chemistry do their first experiment for the year.

Tues. 20: There appear to be last-minute hitches in the running of the Formal Dance.

Mr. Alabaster ambiguous in advice: "There will be no liquor at the dance . . . everything will go well if the dance is conducted in the right spirit."

Wed. 21: There is a new character in the School. He is a small man, dressed in white flares, chewing gum, and speaking in a foreign intonation. Ah, yes . . . Mr. Currie.

Fri. 23: Formal Dance—"All hell broke loose."

Wed. 28: "Mr. Zero" plays the lead role in 7A's exciting courtroom drama of the trial of Henry VIII.
"It takes all sorts to make a world."—Deduced.

AUGUST

Tues. 3: Rector held up in assembly by Kelly gang.
"Assassination has never changed . . . history."—Disraeli.

Thurs. 5: Staff v. School soccer fixture finishes in a 7-1 victory to the School after the teachers had restricted the scoring to 1-0 at half time. The superior fitness of Mr. Williams is evident as he is there to "nod home" the staff's solitary goal in the dying stages of the game.

"God shall wound the head of his enemies."—Psalm 68, v. 21.

Fri. 6: "Ned Kelly" gains the upper hand over 7th French as attendance at Mr. Vercauteren's double period dwindles to a disappointing "two".

Mon. 9: I.E.A. testing begins. Several students seem to blush at the question "Have you been kissed, before?"

Wed. 11: Scooter race.

Wilson breaks his collarbone again but First XV still manage to win convincingly.

"Child you are very little,
And your bones are very brittle."—R. L. Stevenson.

Mon. 16: First performance of "Ned Kelly."

Tues. 17: The Otaki Scholar visits S.B.H.S. and is hosted by the Head Prefect. He arrives at noon and there is an informal discussion held with the Seventh Form in the afternoon.

Wed. 18: The second edition of Tooth is published and distributed. There is no shortage of volunteers for admission to the S.B.H.S. distributing staff.

"Girls always excite curiosity . . ."

DIARY - THIRD TERM

SEPTEMBER

Mon. 13: School recommences. 7A begin a new novel—Mr. McIntosh cannot recall reading it before, consequently there are several embarrassing moments, and several pages are overlooked.

"People are getting mileage out of this for the wrong reason."—Mr. McI.

Thurs. 16: Round the Park races—Chris. and Trev. do $1\frac{1}{2}$ rounds. Coldstream comes last in House points. Mr. Waterston's new car attracts a lot of attention.
"Please do not touch the goods on display."—Anon.

Fri. 17: J.C.A. gives 7th Add. Maths—"a nice equation".

Tues. 21: 7B Physics complain that there are too many formula to learn for the exams. Mr. Smith says that all they need to know is "F = ma" from which all the others can be deduced.

Wed. 22: 7A Chem. have Sherborne's Maggi soup during double period. Mr. F. has two 100 ml. beakers full.

Tues. 28: The Rector advises Junior School to cross between the traffic over the new crossing.

OCTOBER

Thurs. 7: School exams begin. Usual chaos as half the School try to do all their swot the morning before.

Fri. 15: Sports Council "election" held. Overwhelming support for several obscure senior boys.

Fri. 22: Prefects v. Staff golf match. Prefects come out on top—although some of them have never hit a ball before. Two brothers juggle Murdoch's handicap slightly. All in the interest of fair play, of course.

Wed. 27: While making his daily pilgrimage from Bluff, Calder and motor cycle are detained by an officer of the roads.

NOVEMBER

Mon. 1: Senior School reminded of impending exams.

Fri. 12: U.E. accrediting announced. Fifth Formers leave to begin S.C. "Joy to the World."—Xmas carol.

Thurs. 25: U.E. exams begin. Invercargill hears that a group of 4th and 5th Formers have lost themselves in the Hokonui Hills. They are later found.

DECEMBER

Wed. 1: Scholarship begins, and ends, for some, at the same time.

Thurs. 2: Most of School return for Senior Break-up rehearsals. Break-up at night.

Fri. 3: Last day for most senior pupils. Huge queues outside Mr. Fyfe's office waiting for Leaving Certificates. Smith cuts out the holes in his and has to glue them up again. "To err is human . . ."—Pope. Text books returned—all leavers are checked for missing library books before having their certificates signed.

Thurs 9: School finishes for the year. "Leap up and down and wave your knickers in the air."—Pop song.

THE YEAR'S HIGHLIGHTS

"Ned Kelly"

After a long, dramatic depression, this year saw the production of a play in the School—"Ned Kelly", by Douglas Stewart. Produced by Mr. McIntosh and Mr. Lonsdale, the first rumours of its existence began circulating towards the end of the first term. The script called for a cast of fifty, and most of the 7th Form were cautiously approached at some time or another, and considered as possibilities for parts. Although many claimed exemption due to various reasons, another type of dramatic impetus reigned and eventually a creditable, but raw cast was assembled—in fact only a small number had had any previous experience at all. Once placed in suitable parts, and ably supported by the cream of S.G.H.S. acting talent, the cast began rehearsals in earnest. From the start of the second term various scenes were taking place before, during, and after school hours.

Tracing the exploits of the infamous Kelly gang, the play was set in four acts, each involving different locations, which meant that with the exception of the Kelly gang themselves—Ned—Ron Fraser, Joe Byrne—Roger Bowie, Dan—Ross Redpath and Steve Hart—Keith Woodley, the cast was involved in only one section. Once initial embarrassment and fear were overcome, many hidden talents were discovered, and in spite of continual changes in movements and dialogue, the play gradually began to take shape.

About five weeks before the actual production date the sets began to take shape, constructed by Mr. Clarke, decorated by Miss Daniels, and aided by various other interested boys, which supplied the realism necessary for the cast to become completely involved in their parts. Properties also began accumulating, collected by a quartet of selected, and trained teachers, and from appeals to cast and school members. Costumes were found from sources such as the Army, Salvation Army, and old relations, and proved so useful to some that they bought and kept their clothes afterwards.

Owing to the clash of an important social event—S.G.H.S. Ball—the play took second place, and was deadline for the 17th, 18th and 19th of August. The week before, with last-minute changes still being made, and necessary, chaos if not gang warfare seemed imminent. Comments such as "almost satisfactory" did little to bolster the cast's emotions as the dress rehearsals drew near. The first was on the Saturday night before the week in which the play was to be shown, unfortunate because it was not only nerves that upset the play that night. The next day, however, with the addition of makeup, and clear heads, a far more "passable" play took place.

Running for three nights, "Ned Kelly" was presented to a packed hall each time, and surprising many who had at first been cynical and pessimistic of its success. All performances went smoothly—for the audience—and few knew that half a scene was lost at one performance, part of another a different night, or that the last scene had been changed several times in order to create a better impact.

After three nights of half-hour make-up sessions, nerves, stage fright, and half-hour make-up removal sessions, the majority of the cast was sorry to see it end. Having played a character for about twelve weeks produced a certain atmosphere which carried on for some time afterwards. The play was an outstanding success, giving bored seventh formers a new interest in attending (if not classes) school, and proving that such a production could be managed for which the greatest part of credit must go to the producer, Mr. McIntosh.

The Visit of Sandy Carmichael

On Wednesday, 30th June, the School welcomed Sandy Carmichael, its adopted Lion, into its midst. The sight of this 6 ft. 2 ins. 15-stone, broad-shouldered Scot, with signs of a black eye starting to fade, had the School struck with awe. After being welcomed by the Rector and Head Prefect, Mr. Carmichael made a short speech to the School and then presented the School with a small plaque depicting his clan's coat-of-arms. Chris Morland then thanked Mr. Carmichael and presented him with School grip bag. Then Mr. Carmichael was in the hands of the 1st XV. At the time Waitaki were visiting and they joined in on the discussion with him.

After giving a few hints to the forwards on the scrum machine, he then told us something about the Lions' style of play, training methods and life on tour. Mr. Carmichael then had a discussion with the staff.

After watching the inter-school match that afternoon, he commented that our standard of rugby was above that of schoolboy rugby in Scotland. Mr. Carmichael because of injuries then had to leave for his home in Scotland. A comprehensive record of the tour has since been compiled by the 1st XV and sent to Mr. Carmichael.

BOB HAVERTY

A new way of raising School funds was introduced this year in the work of a "Work Day". Every boy in the School was given, or found, employment for up to five hours, the payment for which would go to the School. It was held on Tuesday, the 4th of May, and raised approximately $3,000, which will be added to the money raised at the last fair for the gymnasium building fund. As now only about $3,000 more is required before

This year three boys from the School were selected to travel to the States as American Field Scholars. They were Bruce Stirling, Neil McDowell and Pete Christmas. All three left just before the end of the second term and will return in a year's time.

As well as having three boys away, we have Bob Haverty from the U.S. in the School. He arrived in the first term and leaves again late January. He has taken part in many school projects, the most notable being his organisation and election to President of the School Council. To the delight and amusement of pupils of Girls' High, he spent a week there, reportedly interrupting many sunbathing sessions with his unexpected and untimely appearances.

Otaki Scholar

This year's Otaki Scholar was Scott Murray and his host in Invercargill was the Head Prefect, Arthur Ballantyne. After being welcomed off the express on Monday, 16th August, Scott spent the afternoon looking round the town and joining in a training run with the 1st XV. Tuesday saw a sightseeing trip around Southland—Bluff in particular—followed by an entertaining discussion with the 7th Form. That evening Scott saw the second death of Ned Kelly at the School's hall.

On Wednesday, Scott and his host were sponsored on a spectacular plane trip over Fiordland. This really impressed Scott because it was the first time he had seen such mountainous country close up. The afternoon was spent relaxing on the Otatara golf links. After having morning tea with the Mayor on Thursday morning, Scott was farewelled by the Rector and his host family and continued his journey to Queenstown.

Scott was a very friendly laddie, rolling his "r's" perfectly and wearing his kilt with distinction. It was a pity the rest of the School had no time to see his lively Scotch personality but time would not permit it. On the whole it was a very enjoyable visit to Invercargill for the Otaki Scholar.

Work

a Government subsidy is arranged, the possibility of a new gym. looks close. The "Work Day" is to be a yearly event, the money going to the building fund next year, and after that for various other equipment in the School. In this way it will be possible to raise a large sum of money for the School with minimal bother and to which each boy has a chance to contribute.

The 1971 Dobson Lectures

The 1971 Dobson Lectures were held in the Scottish Hall on Friday, 18th June. The purpose of the lectures is to honour the contributions made to the early development of New Zealand by the engineers of the Dobson family, and at the same time to give senior secondary school students some insight into the engineering profession. Most of our 7th Form attended the lectures addressed by Dr. R. J. Aspden and Mr. N. Jordon.

Dr. R. J. Aspden, D.Phil. (Oxon), B.E. (Hons.), M.N.Z.I.E., Senior Civil Construction Engineer at the New Plymouth Power Station Project, spoke about the types of engineers used in the engineering profession. He used the model of a nuclear power station to illustrate his talk; Mr. N. Jordan, systems engineer with I.B.M., spoke on the educational opportunities for an engineering career.

Both speakers were well qualified engineers, some of New Zealand's best in fact, but their lectures offered little new material for the serious engineering student. Apart from their obvious and complete enthusiasm for engineering, and their opinion that it was the only profession to enter, which at least illustrates that engineering is a very engaging occupation, they gave little insight into the type of study situations, working conditions, and everyday professional standards as compared with other professions that a student should be prepared to meet.

Students attending these lectures were expecting a more vivid, accurate, penetrating and personal description of the engineering profession from the inside viewpoint of the engineer graduate. The lectures offered no more information than could be obtained from a careers adviser.

However, the lectures were fine as an introduction to those unaware of these general points and at least it offered all of us the opportunity of meeting the professional man who has made a success of engineering. It was of little help to the average student when one realised that both speakers had been dux of their respective schools.

Tooth

In the spirit of intellectual pretension, which is rife in the 7th Form, this year witnessed the attempt, and hooray, the success of yet another school newspaper. This time, our gullible pupils were served with the biting comment of a rather dirty yellow (at first) then a highly polished TOOTH. The propagandists were led by the Editor, and instigator Guy Manson, who was ably supported by Richard Smith, Roger Bowie, and our late lamented volunteer to America, Bruce Stirling. However, the success which it held was limited to three issues, due to various other commitments to school affairs. Exams, laziness and Ned Kelly took up a lot of the writers' time, and in spite of many appeals, the rest of the School showed itself to be in a state of literary dehydration, so few were the contributions and so negative and hostile were those few. The TOOTH staff were surprised that even the popular week-end entertainments did not fertilise any of the impotent minds in the 6th and 7th Forms.

Although it was a rushed effort, the first edition of this paper was an outstanding success in the School, and even more so at S.G.H.S. However, the threat of more severe censorship, or even extinction, cooled the ribald articles of the Toothites a bit. The next issue, even though it was more restrained, had an even greater success despite its slight change. As it was, the subjects ranged from the fantastical to severe criticism, from an interview by a female stripper to an attack on the state of the school toilets, from an "extra" edition of "Comment" to an investigation into the new School Council.

The first and second editions sold at three cents a copy, but this was raised to five cents for the third, due to a larger paper and other increased costs. Although the first edition was "on the School", the profits had that mysterious, magical, dissolvent nature about them and the staff have long lost hopes of payment. We can only hope that someone will have the perception to carry it on next year, without perhaps isolating the office for three days in an effort to get it on the market when advertised.

The 1st XV on Tour

In 1970, plans were initially set up for a tour of the North Island by the First Fifteen of the following year. Previously, a number of North Island teams had made similar tours to the South Island and it was felt that a return visit would benefit both the liaison between the schools as well as the education of the boys making the trip. A detailed itinerary was built around visits to Rotorua Boys' High School, Tauranga Boys' College, Hamilton Boys' High School and Rongotai College. Mr. Waterston and Mr. Thyne went to a great deal of trouble in making the necessary travel arrangements, organising tours of geographical interest and producing an impressive tour booklet.

Once the initial preparations were completed, it was over to the touring party itself to raise the necessary finance. It succeeded in doing so by means of numerous ventures—bottle drives, a car trial, a school dance and a scooter race. The last venture created tremendous interest (as well as money). Various teams representing different sports groups in the School competed in a sponsored race from Gore to Invercargill. As was expected, the 1st XV won even after having to overcome the loss of one of their members through an unfortunate accident. The remaining finance was contributed by the boys themselves and the tour was ready to begin.

The touring party consisted of 28 boys from the 1st and 2nd Fifteens, the coach, Mr. C. R. Williams, the manager, Mr. A. D. Fyffe, and the business manager, Mr. N. P. H. Jones, who joined the group at Rotorua.

The tour began on Wednesday, 18th August, and the scheduled departure time was 7 a.m. This was not to be, however, as when we were about to leave there was one person still missing . . . and Mr. Williams was the first person to face the disciplinary committee, being subjected to a significant fine. We finally departed after being farewelled by the Rector, parents and "TV cameras". The bus driver, Mr. Les Baldwin, set the tone of the trip in his introduction, making it obvious that he would also join in the events of the tour.

The first night away, and also the last night we had use of the Lincoln College Hut at Oaro, near Kaikoura. This consisted of two dormitories and one common room and so, with everyone sleeping together, it was almost impossible to get any sleep what with the traditional barrage of "jokes and songs". When the "dorm" was eventually quiet and everyone asleep a train came thundering by the hut, waking most people up. Next morning, everyone rose about 4 o'clock, complaints being heard about the train and also from Mr. Williams who threatened to send anyone home who did not go to bed early the next night.

We caught the ferry at Picton and had a rather turbulent crossing during which quite a number lost their breakfast. Despite this, we were shown over the bridge of the boat by one of the officers. We met McPherson and Lawrence in Wellington and then continued on our way northwards.

The most interesting episode occurred at Taihape. After our evening meal, some of us managed to arrange a game of basketball with the local team. We finally came out on top. That night we stayed in Taupo at the Oasis Lakeside Motel which had a heated swimming pool as well as the usual luxuries.

The next morning we had our first practice session, but this was shortened because we had a certain schedule of sightseeing visits to maintain. The first visit was to the Wairakei geothermal project, involving the use of geothermal steam for the provision of electricity. We then travelled to Orakei-Koraka, described as a "thermal wonderland". It consisted of raised, colourful terraces, numerous hot pools and "Aladdin's Cave", which, it is said, was the place where Maori maidens used to bathe. While in the latter, Singleton seemed to stir up the ire of the Maori gods as he was struck by a falling rock. However, the instigator of the evil spirit proved to be McKechnie.

Rotorua was our first game and we were billeted there for three nights. Visits were made to various attractions near Rotorua—the Waitapu wonderland including the famous "Lady Knox" geyser, the Whaka thermal area, Rainbow Springs, the hot pools at Kerosine Creek and the Hell's Gate thermal area. Some of the party attended a Maori concert which was generally enjoyed. Although our general impression of Rotorua was damped somewhat by the sulphurous smell, most of the party enjoyed themselves and were grateful for the hospitality extended by the billeters.

Our next stop was Tauranga and we travelled there on 23rd August. After practice at Rotorua—Mr. Williams was not very pleased with our game—we travelled via Kawerau and Whakatane. It was Phillip Jones's birthday and he got a round of cheers as did Arthur when he opened a can of soft drink which sprayed all over the bus.

A barbecue was arranged for us in Tauranga and then most of us went to the hot pool at Mount Maunganui. We also inspected the port facilities at The Mount and a citrus farm on the outskirts of Tauranga. At one stage the orchardist more or less pleaded with us not to touch any of his avocado-pears since, as he said, they cost 30 cents each. Once again, we were grateful for the warm hospitality extended to us by our hosts. Our stay in Tauranga was also memorable because it was the visit of Tauranga College to Invercargill in August, 1970, which provided the inspiration for our tour of the North Island.

Before we actually arrived in Hamilton we visited the Mormon College at Temple Hill. This is a community consisting mainly of people of the Mormon faith and has the only Mormon temple in the Southern Hemisphere. The school is most impressive and includes a magnificent gymnasium and an Olympic-size swimming pool in its sporting facilities. In Hamilton we visited a Friesian stud dairy farm and the Te Rapa dairy factory, which is the showpiece of the dairy industry in New Zealand. The latter will be remembered for its overall cleanliness and the size of the machinery.

On Sunday, 29th August, we went across to Napier for the night. The journey might have been interesting if it had not been for the rain. Napier was similar to Invercargill in that there was very little activity on a Sunday evening.

In the course of our trip down to Wellington we stopped at the Mount Bruce wildlife station, near Masterton. Those who were prepared to face the heavy rain were conducted around the various cages and ponds, but it seemed as if the birds as well wanted to stay out of the rain.

Yet again it was raining in Wellington when we arrived. The highlight of our stay, perhaps the highlight of the tour, was our visit to Parliament. While there we were shown through the various chambers and shared morning tea with a number of M.P.'s, including Mr. Hugh Templeton and Mr. John Chewings, who were our hosts. A visit was also made to the Ford Motor Company's plant at Lower Hutt. However, souvenirs were not forthcoming!

The end of the tour was now approaching and we set off for home immediately after our match against Rongotai. The ferry crossing was uneventful—Cook Strait was like a millpond. We arrived at Oaro in the early hours of the morning; this time there was very little disturbance.

Our homeward journey began at 6.15 a.m. and we finally arrived in Invercargill at about 9.30 p.m. The tour ended with a chorus of the now infamous words, "It's all over."

In this account, mention has only been made of the actual places visited and very little has been said about the various incidents on the tour. There were many of these, coming primarily from the humour and guitar-playing of Peter "Williams" Wainui, the few quotable statements from Mr. Williams, and the varied antics of Morland, McKechnie, Jones and Nicolson. Generally, the success of the tour stemmed from the close team spirit of the entire group. But in saying this we do not wish to detract any of the credit from those people who helped to make it so successful for the boys on the tour. For these reasons the touring party would like to extend its thanks to all those people who helped in doing this; in particular—the Rector for his support and encouragement, Mr. Waterston and Mr. Thyne for the initial arrangements and organisation. Also, thanks are extended to Mr. Jones for his handling of the financial matters; to Mr. Fyffe for his control of the arrangements on tour; and to Mr. Williams for making the rugby part of the tour a success. In conclusion, the success of this tour should pave the way for a number of trips of a similar nature and we would wish them similar success. Furthermore, such trips are possible only with the help and support of the whole School. The rugby tour of the North Island would not have been possible without the tremendous contribution made by all groups within the School.

Rothman's Visit Report

On Monday, 27th September, the Rothman's Sports Foundation paid a visit to the School to avail their expert services to us. It is supposed that all participated.

They offered us a wide variation of activities, chosen from both summer and winter sports. All the sports played at school were represented. There were two sessions held for us in the morning, each lasting one and a-quarter hours, one session being for the seniors, the other for the juniors.

The coaches were:—Athletics—Bryan Wilson (N.Z. A.A.A. promotions, Napier); badminton—Leith Shand (professional, Wanganui); basketball—Bill Dyson (also national water polo coach, Wellington); cricket—Martin Horton (national cricket coach, Auckland) and Bert Sutcliffe (N.Z. rep., regional coach, Hamilton); hockey—Cyril Walters (N.Z. rep., Canterbury coach, Christchurch) and Ernie Barnes (recently appointed national coach, Christchurch); rugby—Don Clarke (N.Z. rep., Auckland); soccer—Barry Truman (national soccer coach, Wellington); softball—Harry Atkin (N.Z. women's selector and coach, Wellington); squash—Colin Brownlee (professional, Rotorua) and Colin Brayshaw

Rugby commanded the largest number of participants with 151 seniors and 114 juniors. Second was softball with 36 seniors and 109 juniors. Third, basketball with 59 seniors and 75 juniors. Most others were fairly close behind. It would seem there was a reasonably strong group of drama followers in the School as 25 seniors were listed in the drama section!

Luckily, the weather was good on this particular day and all who participated gained something valuable from the highly qualified coaches.

The Foundation also gave tuition to Girls' High School, St. Catherine's College, Southland College, James Hargest, Marist College, St. Peter's College (Gore), Gore High School, as well as clubs and special groups.

We owe our thanks to the Rothman's Sports Foundation, not only for their invaluable tuition, but also for allowing us to have the morning off school.

"Our Just Fate" - Trip to Dunedin

Near the end of the first term, a group of us drifted together with the hopes of stunning the high-brow musical circles by entering a pop group in the 1971 Chamber Music Contest.

Many near-fatal practices ensued, after which we terrified the School at an assembly with our original composition, "Come With Me", and ventured forth into the unknown depths of Dunedin for the provincial eliminations.

This was on Friday, 25th June. We arrived in Dunedin at 6 p.m., had a meal, and made our way to Otago Girls' where with trepidation we listened to some of the other 23 contestants.

The following afternoon saw us back there, and we awaited our turn. Zero hour came, we nervously crept on stage, the curtains were drawn, and we "did our thing". There was an overwhelming burst of applause, and many encouraging comments from the audience—even an invitation to play at a Convent in Timaru!

At the announcement of the placings we were most surprised to find we were placed fourth out of 24. Incidentally, we were the only pop group there: all the others were classical.

Jaunts around the city until 2 o'clock in the morning and a ducking to dampen the spirits of a zealous drum-banger, topped off an altogether most satisfying weekend.

The group, "Our Just Fate", consisted of Graeme Adcock on drums, Darryl Kaye on trumpet, Alistair Waite on the lead vocal, Ian Sherborne on bass guitar, Greg Bayliss, Garry Elford and Malcolm Leatham all on rhythm guitar, Malcolm also on vocal, and Colin Brocket on vocal and lead guitar.

Geography - Biology Trip to Fiordland

2nd - 4th APRIL

A party of 14 Seventh Formers accompanied by two staff members left for Fiordland by mini-bus and car early on Friday afternoon. The joyride to Hedgehope Hill culminated in a brief tour of the repeater station, and a study of the vegetation by those who could withstand the strong breeze.

Arrival at the campsite, Cascade Creek, was later than expected, and mealtime was followed by an illustrated talk by a National Park ranger and stimulating discussion on ecological balance and conservation within the park.

Saturday morning meant an early start, and a smart climb to Key Summit, accompanied by piles of gear including topographers' rods, quadrat frames, light meter, auger, spades and great lengths of twine. The descent involved detailed field work in transects and quadrats at specified levels to establish vegetation patterns and altitudinal zonation. Lunch at The Divide was followed by a trip to Murray Gunn's camp and museum—rather disappointingly, birds from a sister school had flown for the day.

Afternoon activities included an additional climb to the Marian Valley for the enthusiasts who wished to make a comparative study, and a swim was welcome. Return to the camp saw the completion of biological studies with a plunge in Cascade Creek to explore marine life and check the form of the river. Descriptions of glacial landforms and summarising the day's studies followed the evening meal. A puncture necessitated a quick trip to Milford.

On Sunday morning a surprise jaunt on a jet fishing boat was followed by a launch trip, complete with full commentary, out on the Sound to the Tasman Sea. Evidence of past glacial action was clearly discernible. Places visited on the trip home included The Chasm and Falls Creek, and the alpine gardens.

Altogether, this was a worth-while trip combining work and pleasant surroundings. Accompanying teachers were Mr. Thyne and Mr. Preece.

SHOULD MARIJUANA BE LEGALISED?

Today drugs are becoming an increasing problem and threat to the security of the teenage generation. Daily, in the papers, we read of drug offences brought before the criminal courts and the serious punishments which the offenders receive. So catastrophic has the problem become that divisions of our police forces are concentrated entirely on catching drug-pushers when they could well be employed in other branches of the service.

Members of the drug under-world, whether they be pusher, opium addict, or just a reefer smoker, live in constant fear of discovery. This soon becomes a heavy burden and so, as a solution, many people are proposing that marijuana should be legalised.

The advocates state that marijuana is not an addictive drug, and claim that no evidence of harm has been discovered from this drug, although it often leads the unsuspecting user further down the road to the hard drugs such as opium, heroin and LSD. Once one turns down this road few, if any, ever return.

If marijuana were to be legalised then the black market for marijuana would be reduced, but surely it would increase for the harder drugs. This fact crushes out the argument that if legalisation occurred then fewer policemen would be required to maintain the drug squads. The cost of policing certainly would not decrease but rather expand beyond all reason and the extra expense must come from the taxpayers.

The widespread usage of marijuana would lead to greater consumption and this could have bad side effects on driving, business, and other activities which require a clear mind for making on-the-spot decisions. This widespread usage would mean that even children could buy and sample marijuana.

One advantage claimed to favour this drug is that, if more cultural artists used marijuana, then they would receive new inspirations which they could pass on to other men through their works. However, they also would face the danger of addiction to many of the harder drugs.

Although marijuana has little, if any, medical value, I feel that we should look to the medical profession for an answer to this question. In my opinion, marijuana, or any other drug, should not be legalised. If it was, then the disastrous effect on society could never fully be repaired and we would be moving one step nearer the downfall in our civilisation.

AN UNEXPECTED RESULT

It wasn't supposed to happen that way. The travel brochure said, "All species of big game within three hours of Nairobi. Hunt in total safety with one of our qualified guides. Trophies guaranteed or your money back!"

But that's not the way it happened at all. God knows I'm not a hero, but if I was a salaried guide at $75 a day (plus martinis) I wouldn't leave my client to the not-so-tender attentions of the Cape buffalo.

I fired too hastily, resulting in a gut wound. Just the right amount of irritation to send a vicious, vindictive killer with 48-inch horns off into the wait-a-bit thorne. Now it was my turn, and he knew damned well that I would come in after him. Since it was my trophy I would have to go first (of course), with my faithful and brave white hunter to back me up!

The odds were so much in favour of the buffalo that any normal man would have left his rifle in the car and walked into the scrub to get it over with quickly (but not cleanly). However, when you have only been around for thirty years there is a powerful urge to reach "three score and ten"; so I took a rifle.

In the movies you see John Wayne walk around a thicket and bang! There is the beast, thirty yards away, pawing the ground. He raises his rifle, and the creature dies. As simple as that!

But in reality you are fighting your way through thorns, brambles and speargrass, when a huge black shape melts out of the undergrowth, and you are dead (unless you can snapshoot a five-hundred-grain slug up his nasal cavity and into his brain). I couldn't, of course, but my guide was running and screaming so loud that the buffalo contented himself with trampling me underfoot in his urge to get some real sport.

I almost didn't shoot (I thought the buffalo was entitled to a little sport), but then it struck me that he couldn't keep ahead of the buffalo for ever, so I drew a bead on the black spine, above the base of the tail, and secured both my trophy and my white hunter.

EGGS FOR BREAKFAST

The sight of a fried egg dripping spluttering fat from the centre of some hardened yolk which has unfortunately been broken during the cook's early morning blundering rampage in the kitchen, is enough to make the best of us start dieting, but nevertheless there is still a hardened core of men who simply cannot survive without that early morning bundle of energy. I would rather be one of the stereotyped millions who somehow or other find themselves in the middle of the kitchen waking up with a pint of milk in one hand and "Weet-bix" in the other, than face the great chunk of yellow-white which drips incessantly hundreds of calories on to your clean white shirt, or leaves a fatty mess around your previously clean face.

Of course, that's only fried eggs, and as the egg is such a versatile object you are privileged in having various other fields of exploration before you. The first and by far the most elementary is, of course, the boiled egg. When the toaster is broken, the can opener's missing, and the "cornflakes" special finished, there is nothing better to resort to at some unearthly hour than a good old boiled egg; that is if you are a chef at a five-star hotel, for the boiled egg is a tricky customer for young players. To get the water boiling is simple, but then the fun starts. The eggs have to be placed with meticulous care into the bottom, or else c-r-r-r-ack! You've got a pot full of boiling egg yolk. But let's pretend that for once this stage has been passed with first class honours and that everything is going along splendidly until the key factor, time, is suddenly remembered. When on earth did I put them in? That question is asked so many times that the "Guinness

"Book of Records" has given up trying. By the law of averages, however, one should be able to break a perfectly boiled egg every thousandth, or so, attempt, but if you think I'm going to buy that many eggs for a pleasant breakfast, you're kidding. I'm sticking to weet-bix. The poached egg is, of course, an entirely different matter, that is, with grated cheese on top. Delicious!

But it, too, has its disadvantages, as with one slip of the fork a perfectly respectable-looking plate is covered with a sea of yellow. One doesn't really care about this at the early hours until some jumbled message reaches the brain and brings to your attention the fact that you've got to put that stuff into your mouth. Unfortunately, a fork wasn't built with that purpose in mind and the great gaps between the prongs render it useless. Only the knife remains, but if Mum's around you can't give a display of eating off a knife. That would be out of taste. So it stays there on the plate while the aroma drifts up your nostrils. A delicious mixture wasted. . . . Useless eggs!

In conclusion, then, I find that if, in the early hours of the day you won't want to crack up, stay away from eggs! For if there's an egg in the house, there's a mess in the house!

The School Council

The editorial in the 1967 "Southlandian" was very optimistic about the newly-formed School Council. In fact, it was hailed as the basis of a truly New Zealand educational system incorporating elements of the old traditionalism, and the more modern American systems to encourage personal participation and development.

Sadly, however, this was the last word heard of the Council until the 1970 editorial, as it didn't get off the ground in 1968. This editorial pointed out that once rejected suggestions of the 1967 Council had suddenly and belatedly been implemented by the administration, much to the profound bewilderment of the student body. Two prime examples were specifically mentioned: the passing of the era of the school cap and the beginnings of a school canteen.

Early in 1971 Form 6A conceived the idea of forming a new Senior School Council, and later, two students, Arthur Ballantyne and Bob Haverty, prepared a constitution for this proposed Council—a constitution being one of the administrative items the previous Council badly lacked. In due course it was presented to the School and the Executive (President, B. Haverty; Secretary, S. Wild; and Treasurer, A. Morrison) and class reps. were elected, the first meeting being held on the first day of the second term.

While the former Council was openly encouraged, and in fact pushed by the Rector and staff, this one had to struggle desperately to gain recognition and support from both the administration and the student body. The underlying reason for this is the thought that to be truly representative of the students it must be developed and run solely by the students.

A Junior School Council was formed with the Head Prefect as Chairman, Geoffrey Scandrett, Secretary, and 11 Council members representing junior forms. Two staff members, Mr. Fitzgerald and Mr. Deacon, also attended the meetings to advise and provide information.

The Council met fortnightly and dealt with topics brought up through class discussions. The Council took action on many of these matters and met with varying success. Its first activity for the year was to hold inter-form cricket and tennis matches during lunchtimes. These were very popular but had to be cut short because of facilities being converted to the winter sports programme. Inter-form rugby and basketball games were held in a similar manner at the end of the second term.

The Junior Council organised two dances in the second term: one for Fourth Formers and the other for Third Formers. Both of these were successful—the only thing marring their success was the shyness of the boys, both in buying their tickets and asking girls to dance. Subsequent profits have gone to the Council but have yet to be used. The Council also put forward the recommendation that homework be set in such a way that no homework was compulsory over the week-end. However, this recommendation was rejected by the Rector. Other matters to be discussed by the Council were school heating, a canteen, and liberal studies for the Third and Fourth Forms.

The two major successes of the Council were in having a metalled path put between prefabs. 32 and 34, and it was instrumental in having roller towels installed in the toilets on a trial basis. Altogether the Council achieved a great deal in its first year of operation and if it becomes established it will contribute greatly to the life of the School.

it was artistic."

Prefects' Notes

PREFECTS v. STAFF GOLF MATCH

This year's prefects had a lot of trouble finding their places in the School, both literally and figuratively. It was with grievous hearts their old room had been turned into a classroom. They were then forced to share Room 23 with the Seventh Form, a totally unacceptable arrangement. The second home was Room 22, with the consent of A.J.C., where the prefects struggled hard to contain themselves from disturbing the room. After the inspiration of Sherborne, the prefects shifted into the little room at the back of the stage in the Assembly Hall. But, because of the lack of space and a certain play producer, the prefects were forced to move again. After another short stop in Room 22 the prefects finally found their final resting place in the old library.

Because of the inexperience of the returning prefects and changing attitudes in the School, the prefects were uncertain of their responsibility and jobs in the School. Under the leadership of Mr. Martin the prefects were generally liberal in the enforcement of the law.

With their final number at 21 the prefects spent a difficult but rewarding year in their office.

This enjoyable event (for most) was held at the Otatara golf course on Friday, 22nd October. The matches were held after school and the weather was surprisingly good. We played 18 holes (i.e. 1 round) of match play. There was an extremely wide variation of quality of play, some players hitting the little white balls for the first time.

Results were:—G. Murdoch and M. Gordon beat Mr. J. Alabaster and Mr. G. Alabaster; A. Ballantyne and B. McKenzie beat Mr. Fitzgerald and Mr. McIntosh; T. Nicolson and B. Sherborne beat Mr. James and Mr. East; G. Alsweiler and C. Morland beat Mr. Williams and Mr. Bennett; B. Poole and G. Burns beat Mr. Pethig and Mr. Deacon; R. Bowie and B. McKechnie tied with Mr. Lauren and Mr. Martin Jnr.; C. Lee lost to Mr. Sinton.

As can be seen, the prefects won by the handsome margin of $5\frac{1}{2}$ games to $1\frac{1}{2}$.

It would appear that the staff had more wild shots as can be seen by the fact that they lost nine balls to the prefects' eight. Special mention must go to Poole, however, who lost five!!

We hope to see more clashes in the future.

Staff Notes

The optimistic tone apparent in last year's Staff Notes can be sounded again this year with every justification. It seems a long time since the Rector was last able to announce that we could look forward to the coming year with the School staffed entirely by permanent appointees. Yet this is indeed the case. To be sure, we are losing a staunch colleague in Mr. Currie who leaves on promotion to Kingswell Heights. He has our very best wishes, and Kingswell is gaining a hard-working teacher who gave very good service to the School both inside and outside the classroom. He will be replaced by Mr. Dennis Cocks, who served a term here last year.

Coldstream

Coldstream started the year on a winning note, being placed first in the athletic sports; outstanding performances being by D. McBride, D. McLean, R. Black, B. McPherson and J. Anderson. Other strengths in sporting activities came in basketball with four hostel boys being members of the first team and also junior rugby, this team winning the inter-house competition. The Swimming Sports were attended by the whole hostel and third place was attained, the majority of the points being scored by F. McKenzie.

The hostel was managed by Mrs. E. King who was also the Matron, being ably assisted by Mrs. Smart, the Sub-Matron. Although there were no prefects this year, due to a previous failure of this militant minority, Messrs. N. Basher, D. D. Dorizac, I. Cottrell and E. Crouch did a commendable job and may have suitable recommendations made to Attica prison for jobs as wardens. Mr. R. Lonsdale stayed at the hostel during the early part of the year, but had to leave (?).

B. Stirling, a school prefect, left in August for the U.S.A. as an A.F.S. Scholar along with two other school boys.

S.B.H.S. Tramping Club

The first term saw two major week-ends for the club. February found us camped beside the South Mavora Lake. We started for the Whitestone, but unfortunately had to turn back because of a sprained ankle. A canoe provided much hilarity. Mr. Clark firmly declined to participate while Mr. Deacon was "sucked" into an involuntary swim. Alas, the club would starve if it relied on the fishing ability of its members.

A traverse of the Takitimus from Princhester via the Waterloo Saddle to the Aparimu River was carried out in April—magnificent tramping country. Queen's Birthday week-end saw three members trekking once more into the Takitimus. Rain, hail, snow and swollen creeks provided challenges.

A one-day hike through the Hokonuis in July let off steam after the exams. The aim was to "christen" Mr. Crouch. Unfortunately he was rather fleet of foot every time we approached water. David Kershaw discovered it was not possible to walk upon the waters even when supported by three inches of ice. A week's trip to Stewart Island is planned for the holidays.

It is hoped to take in new members next year as vacancies occur, but it remains club policy to have a limited membership.

We have also lost Mrs. Holmes, who is trying her best to ensure a continuing supply of raw material to the schools. She, too, has our best wishes, as does Miss Daniel, with us for too short a term. Her outrageous puns and charming presence will be sadly missed.

A welcome addition to the office staff is Mrs. Cummings, who has been of great assistance to the teaching staff by so willingly helping them with typing and duplicating.

How pleasant it is that these few changes are all that I have to record.

Coldstream

A change took place this year in that Coldstream accommodated Hargest pupils as a last resort to avoid closure of the Hostel.

First prize for the "Dick of the Year Award" must go to "Seal" for his gallant attempt to reverse perm. his beautiful locks. He is now very proud as he can now comb his hair though the curls are still as persistent as ever.

The "E.B.U.T." (External Beauty Utilisation Trophy) for hard work goes to D. Paul and G. Godby for their gallant scholastic activities.

A dance was held in collaboration with Enwood Hostel for Fourth and Fifth Formers; this turned out a success except for the activities of a few individuals of the Sixth and Seventh Forms.

An auction was carried out after a confiscation squad raided the building and thus the hostel funds were increased by two packets of ping-pong balls.

A new activity introduced into the hostel for full-time boarders was "cane work" which thoroughly engrossed the masters but had insufficient effects on the boys.

Russian Club

The Russian Club exploded into action this year with regular lunch-time classes conducted by Mr. Lonsdale. However, as the third term ploughed on, fear of impending exams, rather than outright defection, accounted for three-quarters of the membership. It is hoped that next year the club will go from strength to strength by attracting a more active interest in the Junior School.

Chess Club

The School Chess Club continued this year with a large and active membership. The standard was fairly even with no outstanding players of the calibre of previous years. A ladder was in operation throughout the year. G. Paris finished the year at the top, followed by G. Patterson and R. Davies. An inter-school match against Hargest was won by $6\frac{1}{2}$ points to $5\frac{1}{2}$.

The club's thanks go to Mr. Berridge for his keen support.

Rowing

September, 1970, saw the renewal of interest in a School Rowing Club. A small group of four boys began to train and to race under School colours. For the regattas, intensive training and preparation in the early morning was carried out under the guiding hand of Mr. Connor, of Waihopai Club.

The crew—Peter Cross, Alister Morison, Robert de Boer, Geoff Burns, and Mark Alabaster as cox—raced in schoolboy class races. In three races the team won one and came second in two. As age limit on the class forced the crew into harder competition in a lightweights class, this race saw the crew come fourth.

At the beginning of the 1971 year the crew was joined by rivals from other rowing clubs to form a School eight. These rowers were G. Boniface, L. Eade, R. Calder and G. McCrostie. This crew rowed against Otago Boys' High School in an inter-school—losing the eights race and winning both fours.

The crew returned to Dunedin for the "Head of the Harbour" regatta at which they were very successful—2nd to Otago Boys' High School in Eights, 1st in Intermediate B Fours, 1st in Junior A Fours, 4th in Pairs. These places saw the team third overall in the regatta.

In the last term the eight regrouped to train for the third term regatta in Dunedin. The crew trained hard under Murray Connor again with hopes for providing a more stern opposition to O.B.H.S.

The hopes were realised and the School had a most successful regatta. Although narrowly losing the premier Eights, after an unfortunate crash, the open four performed creditably to gain a good second in their race against tough opposition.

Results:—Open Eight, 2nd; Open Four, 2nd; Open Pair, 1st Intermediate Four, 1st; Intermediate Pair, 1st; 2nd in Aggregate.

On return from this regatta, the success of the eight rowers and coxswain, coupled with success at national level, revived interest at School. Twenty new members have shown interest and are now in training.

Of the School team, G. Burns, R. Calder, G. Boniface, L. Eade and G. McCrostie rowed in the Southland schoolboy eight at the regatta.

Many thanks are due to the coach, Mr. M. Connor, who had a great deal to do with the success of the team. Also thanks are due to Mr. Fitzgerald and Mr. Deacon for their support.

Harrier and Amateur Athletic Club

Track Season

The main strength of the club was concentrated in the Junior and Colts' sections and athletes excelled in a wide variety of events.

In the newly-instituted Under 15 Colts Grade, Paul Adamson and Russell Fowler performed well in both flat events and hurdles, with Russell just pipping Paul for a title and record in the 80 Metres Hurdles Championship. Ian Sherborne had no peer in the Shot Put and Discus in this grade.

The Colts' section provided a large number of outstanding performances. Star sprinter was Lex Wohlers who won both the 100 and 200 Metres Southland titles in record time (11.5 and 23.6). Philip Twiss was a good third in the 200 Metres and also captured the Long Jump title. Later these two were to combine with Stephen Erickson and John Ballam to create a new 4 x 100 Metres Relay record. John emerged as an outstanding hurdles prospect and captured the 100 Metres Hurdles record. He also revealed potential as a middle distance runner. It was in the middle distance races that Stuart Fleming, Paul Miller and Derek Hamill also showed to the fore, although Stuart and Derek also had success with the javelin with the former taking off the Southland title. Geoff Patterson competed successfully throughout in the High Jump and beat John Ballam for the Southland title. Ian Sherborne also competed with success in this higher division. This summarises the performances which made us the top Southland club in this grade.

Our club's junior men also performed with distinction in their various events. Chris Morland overcame lack of competition to establish a new Southland Pole Vault record, and Arthur Ballantyne once again showed out in the middle distance events and captured the 1,500 Metres title. David McLean (High Jump) and Neil Riley (Sprints) were also prominent in this grade.

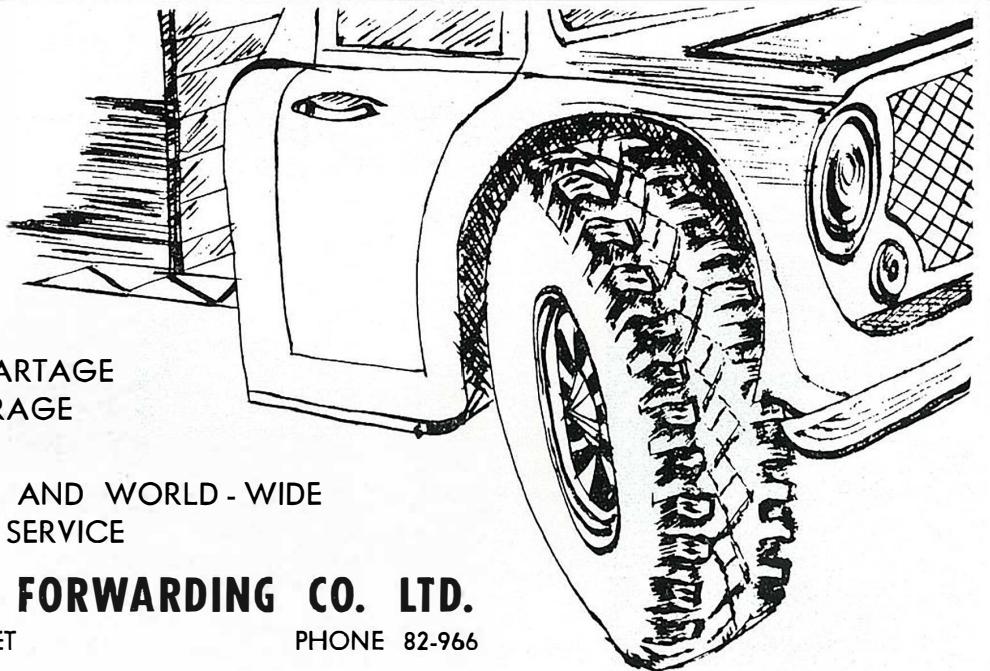

Club members chosen to represent Southland at the 1971 Junior National Championships were Chris Morland, Arthur Ballantyne, Lex Wohlers and John Ballam.

Harrier Season

Club strength this season numbered 15 with Kerry Hammington being the Club Captain.

Although the club teams and individuals failed to capture any of the inter-club titles, the club was always prominently placed in both colts' sections. The outstanding individual was undoubtedly Paul Miller, who continues to improve and show great promise. He was eventually selected to compete for Southland at the Junior National Cross-country Championships—a fine effort for a 15-year-old.

All runners enjoyed their running and the promise of Paul Mahon, John Anderson, Mark Alabaster, Kerry Hammington and Ian Drage, to name a few, augers well for the future.

Lifesaving

The lifesaving group remained quite dormant over the winter and only six members attended regularly under the guidance of Mr. Tiplady.

Mark Treffers and Brian Sherborne worked hard, however, and both gained the Distinction Award which is the second top lifesaving award. Both lifesavers also passed the practical section of the highest award of the Lifesaving Society—the Diploma Award—and are both waiting anxiously for the results of the theory section of the award.

Swimming

For the first time a Southland Boys' High School swimming team competed against Otago Boys' High School. The swimmers—Mark Treffers, Brian Sherborne, Reyn Naylor, Peter Lindsay, John Hildebrande, Keith Raynar, Paul Webb, Lindsay Walker, Ian Sherborne, Phillip Stevenson, Ross Bulling, Brett Naylor and Derek Hamill—accompanied by Mr. Tiplady, competed in the Otago Boys' High swimming sports. The team swam well and gained many top placings, as well as winning the Junior Relay. Several swimmers in our team unofficially broke Otago Boys' High School swimming records. It is hoped that this inter-school competition will be continued in the future.

Pop Concert

The Morning Dew with its commercial sound captivated most of the crowd of 300, come to view Wednesday's final, and won the $10 prize, determined by popular vote. This was the climax of a two-day pop concert in which were heard the throaty solos and simple harmonies of that illustrious Seventh Form group, the P.G.B. Trio. It was the hour of the big beat, electric guitar sound of the Black Knight, the improvised organ music of Murray Burns, the versatility of drummer, soloist and lead guitarist Peter Wainui, the instrumental melodies of the juniors. Seven groups debuted for the occasion with a surprisingly good standard and were compered by Mr. Bennett, whose merry band of drinking song enthusiasts, Mr. Tiplady and Mr. Preece, were the resident guest artists of the show.

In true Seventh Form style, Peter Cross and Gilbert Mills, led by instigator Brian Sherborne, organised music teacher Mr. Clark to do most of the work and to arrange the loan of suitable electrical equipment. Success was also due to the vivid publicity posters from the art room, the shrewd business tactics of the prefects, doormen and stewards, the wit of our compere and the 300-odd fun-spirited financiers who enthusiastically greeted each group. Our thanks to you all. And, more substantial than sound, $47.09 was donated to the Commonwealth Games Appeal.

Art Notes

The year 1971 will forever remain indelibly etched on the hearts and minds of all who entered the hallowed confines of Prefab. 31 (alias the Art Room).

It can truly be said that never has so little been done by so many for so few! Being so new to the job, the art teacher, who prefers to remain anonymous, also learnt a lot—about people, about art, and about the world in general.

The Art Department has had its share of fame, inherited in no small way from the legacy left by Mrs. Wilson. Bryan Poole and Mark De La Mare spent a most exciting and productive week in Wellington attending a National Bank Art Workshop together with selected students from other secondary schools throughout the country. Brent Hagan, from the Fifth Form, won first prize with a design for the Chamber of Music programme cover. He also went to Wellington to receive his prize and was taken on visits to a Design Studio, the Polytechnic, and Art Galleries in the city.

As well as practical work on a modest scale (apart from the School float, that is), most classes have, at various times throughout the year, visited the Museum, where exhibitions of paintings and sculpture have been displayed. The value of these displays is exemplified by a more tolerant student attitude towards each individual artist and his work.

The windows on the west side of the Art Room have provided a continuing source of interest as we watch the new block being built. Hopefully, the newness of the building will engender in some thoughtless people a spirit of tidiness and pride in their surroundings, and that next year the lucky occupants of the new Art Room will go, in their art work, from strength to strength.

Library Notes

Library Staff

A. M. McIntosh, Master-in-charge of Library; Mrs. I. E. Gray, Librarian; Seniors—W. A. Cambridge, G. Cowley, K. J. Gibbs, R. W. Kuijpers, J. S. Taylor; Juniors—G. C. Bennett, R. J. Buchanan, G. G. Cockcroft, R. P. J. Davis, A. J. Falconer, J. W. Gibson, R. J. Harvey, J. B. Jones, D. R. Kaye, S. J. McPhail, N. E. Mathieson, P. H. Ridgway, M. J. Sanderson, F. J. Sanderson, J. R. Scandrett, N. F. Troon, P. D. Wilkens, R. C. Williams, G. A. Wilson, A. H. Withington, C. P. Young.

In many respects, the Library is like a good pair of shoes—vital to the well-being of the wearer but usually unnoticed unless giving trouble. We would like to think that we have had another year of being "unnoticed" in this respect.

Among the more pleasing aspects of life in the Library this year have been regular donations of books from school-leavers and Old Boys. Particularly generous was the P.T.A. plan to have a library night where books were displayed, for purchase by parents. We are grateful to those parents who took advantage of this opportunity to have their gift added to the shelves.

In spite of rising costs and other usual troubles associated with libraries, we have to report another very successful year when book issues, new book numbers and fines have all increased. Most boys have shown a very responsible attitude to the use of the Library and this is an encouraging sign for next year.

Young Farmers' Club

After a recess of three years the Young Farmers' Club was re-started, mainly due to the efforts of Mr. Crouch. The first meeting was held in the lunch hour in R.18 on 4th March, 1971, and officers were elected and suggestions taken for trips and speakers. K. Ballantyne was elected President, G. McLellan Secretary, and S. Rabbidge Treasurer.

About 15 attended the first meeting and the club now has a roll of 33 members. The second meeting was held on 24th March in R.18 at 7 o'clock, at which our guest speaker was Mr. Newson, a farm advisory officer who spoke on jobs and further education in agriculture.

Our first trip was to the Makarewa Freezing Works on 11th April. We were served with morning tea when we arrived and then shown around the works. This trip was a great success and enjoyed by all who attended.

Our next meeting was on 5th May and our guest speakers were Mr. Keast, Mr. Pirie and Mr. Jennings, all members of other Young Farmers' Clubs, and they spoke to us on administration and meeting procedure, and activities undertaken by other clubs.

On 26th May a mock meeting was held with ten other Y.F.C. members who arranged a meeting and went through meeting procedure, and Mr. Watson showed slides on some of his club's activities.

Mr. Crawford, noxious weeds officer, spoke to the Young Farmers' Club in June. He spoke about laws and regulations concerning noxious weeds. Following his speech, the club discussed certain types of weeds in the local area. The meeting was then closed after a lively discussion.

The club entered a rugby team in the district competition at Winton at the end of June. The team lost its first game 15-nil and drew the second nil-all. An enjoyable time was held by all who played.

On 4th July our guest speakers were Mr. Galt, Mr. Millar and Mr. Sutherland who spoke on farm, industrial and firearm safety.

Our second trip was held on 10th June to the Winton A. & P. experimental farm, with 42 pupils taking part. We were shown around the farm and told of the different experiments undertaken.

On 22nd October, Mr. Macaskill from the Southland Catchment Board spoke on his Board's activities in Southland.

Debating

We began the year with a relatively inexperienced team, with little inter-school experience—especially in front of the home school. But we finished the season on a happier note.

Our first debate was against Otago Boys' High School at Southland Boys' High School. The old masters Pomeroy, Waldron and Gray having left the School, M. A. Gordon, J. R. Naylor and P. E. Silcock (leader) were asked to take over. Unfortunately, for us, Otago had a much more polished and experienced team and we went down. The topic of this enjoyable debate was "That the Family as a Social Unit is doomed", we taking the affirmative. Some rather weird arguments were put up. All, however, were relevant.

The second clash of the season was a much better debate for us. We argued against Waitaki Boys' High School (again at Invercargill) on the topic "That the City has become a Mere Jungle—Impersonal and Frightening", us with the affirmative. Having gained experience from the Otago debate, we felt we would overwhelm Waitaki. We started very well—much better than Waitaki—and Naylor gave a very humorous account of a day in the life of an Invercargill man compared to a Chicago man. We finished with an excellent summary from our leader and looked set to win by a massive margin. But, tragedy . . . the judge was unconvinced—he awarded the debate to Waitaki, or, at least gave it to Waitaki—such is the life of a debater. Naturally we were disappointed, even though we had won a moral victory.

We eventually recovered enough, however, to send two teams to the Competitions Society debates, and came out highly successful. The teams were J. R. Naylor and N. M. Mark (team No. 1) and P. E. Silcock and S. Homer (team No. 2). No. 2 eventually won its way into the finals, debating St. Catherine's on the subject "That the Press Dominates Our Thinking". As with Gordon and Naylor last year, this team cleaned up the prizes, winning all three that were available.

We look forward to a good season next year.

We also owe our thanks to Mr. Berridge and Mr. Lonsdale and all others who managed to put up with us over the course of the year.

Speech Contests

The policy of allowing entrants to choose their own topic continues to produce a wide range of subjects and makes judgment much more interesting, if more difficult. Once again, entrants were asked to entertain rather than to inform. This may lead, in some cases, to rather laboured humour, in other cases to humour on a low level, but at least it makes finding an audience a very simple matter. Seniors had to be evicted from the Junior Speech Contest! The studied, mannered type of delivery is becoming less frequent, thank goodness, but clarity of diction and appropriateness of language still need much more care.

The standard of the junior competitions was generally very high but the seniors were uneven and uninspiring except for the place-getters.

Results:—Senior: A. J. Woods (6A) 1. Fourth Form: R. M. Fowler (4A) 1. Third Form: N. C. Walker (3A) 1.

Swords Club

A good display was put on by our team, but we failed to bring back the cup. Four of the five were in the final pool and they took third, fourth, 5th and sixth equal placings.

We would like to extend our thanks to Mr. Ray Nichol without whose help the club would not function.

Unfortunately, only two juniors joined this year and consequently the club's membership was at a low ebb. Only five returned from last year; however, their enthusiasm lasted all year.

Once again a party of five travelled to Dunedin for the Otago-Southland Secondary School Championship.

.303 Rifle Shooting

.303 RIFLE TEAM

Standing: C. C. Lee, C. G. Toms

Sitting: S. G. Hart, J. H. Forrest (Captain), W. A. Cambridge

The .303 Club began this season with only one experienced shooter returning. The season started with two Saturday morning shoots to let prospective members become accustomed to the rifles. Only a few boys remained for a team of five to be chosen for the Masefield Shield challenge.

The team's first shoot was held at Mossburn, with Members J. Forrest, C. Toms, C. Lee, W. Cambridge and V. Henry meeting with little success due to inexperience. The last competition shoot before Trentham was held at Invercargill and here the team shot for the Wakatipu Cup. Again inexperience showed and riflemen were inconsistent over the three ranges shot at. In this shoot S. Hart took the place of V. Henry.

The Trentham team was the same as the Wakatipu Cup team. While lacking real experience, the team did not disgrace itself, gaining third place overall.

After the Nationals there still remained competition shooting throughout Southland. The Southland Championships were held at Gore, with C. Toms winning the C Grade and J. Forrest runner-up. At the Eastern Southland Championships, School riflemen were again successful, with C. Lee winning the C Grade and J. Forrest second.

The last competition shoot for the team was held at Tapanui. In this team shoot the members shot extremely well, gaining sixth place in a field of twelve teams.

Two other notable achievements by School riflemen were J. Forrest's finishing fifth in the Southland C Grade Championships, and C. Toms being picked to shoot for the Invercargill Rifle Club in the Ladies' Challenge Shield competition.

The most disturbing factor about this season was the lack of support shown for the club by School members. The Masefield Shield challenge was held in the school holidays and many boys opted out for this reason.

The School must once again extend its sincere gratitude to the members of the Invercargill Rifle Club for their help to School riflemen. The team would also like to thank Dick Rowley (team coach), his brother John, and father Charley Rowley for their invaluable guidance and assistance throughout the year.

Parent-Teacher Association

The Annual Meeting in March was notable for the vigorous speech by the new President, Mr. F. W. Mark, in which he expressed concern over undercurrents of criticism of the School which he believed to be without foundation and misinformed. He called for a more active and vocal loyalty to the School from parents, Old Boys, masters and boys alike. From the time of that meeting, the principal matters with which the Executive have been engaged are as follows:—

Canteen

Its establishment has not yet been achieved, but recent developments are most encouraging. All being well, 1972 should see this project as a completed going concern.

School Name Sign

It seems that this has been missing for about 90 years but thanks to the alertness of one of the teacher representatives who noticed this, the scheme is in the hands of a sub-committee for design development and costing.

Week-end Social Activities

As a means for meeting a need we could see to exist, some form of wholesome activity was sought with a view to offering it to boys of the School. As a novel resort, the principal officers met with senior boys to discuss the matter together. This resulted in the boys preparing a Social Club questionnaire which was answered by the Senior School and can be used next year in taking the project further. An outcome of this encounter with the boys has been to have the Head Prefect and his deputy as our invited guests at subsequent meetings of the Executive.

Purchase of Equipment

The Executive is currently considering the purchase of the following items which are necessary to the School but outside normal authorisations: A used duplicator for the use of staff; an anatomical model; two trumpets for the orchestra; new drapes in the Assembly Hall. As finances permit, these will be purchased.

Our voluntary contribution system was up-dated this year to enable donors to claim special exemption from Income Tax on amounts of $2.00 or more. The result was a total received more than double that of the previous year. Therefore the Executive decided to double the amount of its annual grant to the Prize List Fund, making our donation $100.

The School Library benefited from a display of suitable books at our September general meeting. Quite a good number of parents donated books purchased from the display, the name of the donor being suitably recorded on a specially prepared acknowledgement inserted in each book.

The Annual Meeting held in March was addressed by the Rector, who held the attention of parents throughout as he discussed the standards of achievement in the School.

In April, about 900 parents and boys filled the hall at the commencement of Careers Night, organised largely by Mr. A. D. Fyffe, assisted by a battery of successful business and professional men culled from the city by the North Invercargill Rotary Club. The outstanding success of the evening must make similar events keen favourites in the future.

Meet the Teachers Night was held in the usual manner, Junior and Senior Schools each taking separate nights. A debt of gratitude is owed the staff by parents for the ready way they make themselves available, and we would here acknowledge this constant co-operation.

September's meeting was not at all well attended, there being only about 90 people present. But those who did attend were delighted with the several addresses by the Heads of Departments. Trends in educational policy were made apparent to parents. It was a valuable night.

"Drugs, Alcohol and Youth" was the topic discussed by a most able panel at the November meeting. Dr. T. C. Henshall chaired the panel which comprised Rev. Newton Fink, Dr. N. G. Prentice, Mr. Trevor Maxwell and Mr. A. W. Chiaroni. An excellent attendance comfortably filled the hall and none could feel with justification that the presentation of facts and opinions based on experience was anything but first class at any point.

The following have served the Association on the Executive in the period since March:—President, Mr. F. W. Mark; Vice-Presidents, Messrs. N. W. Fraser and L. M. Cornwell; Secretary, Mr. A. B. Burt; Treasurer, Mr. B. Hensley; Auditor, Mr. J. G. Henderson; Committee—Messrs. J. R. Lindsay, R. Stewart, A. Manson and C. M. Hammington, Mesdames A. S. Alsweiler, H. Bourchier, A. Frew, K. V. Drummond, J. Matheson, W. McKnight, J. G. Sherborne, W. S. Ramsay, R. Watson and A. R. Rankin; Teachers' Representatives—Messrs. J. C. Alabaster, V. W. Bemrose, T. W. Duerdon, A. D. Fyffe.

WINTER SPORT

Rugby

FIRST FIFTEEN

Captain: C. W. Morland Coach: Mr. C. R. Williams

With the return of seven capped players, this year's 1st XV quickly settled down, and this gave the younger players confidence and valuable experience. At the beginning of the season the team appeared to be of only average ability but it developed into a particularly strong and successful side. In fact, the team had the best record of any School side since 1950—unbeaten in all inter-school games.

Club Record

Inter-School Record

Timaru	won	27-9
Rotorua	won	21-10
Tauranga	won	38-3
Hamilton	won	8-0
Rongotai	won	11-6

The success of the team must be attributed to the coach, Mr. Williams, for his time, invaluable coaching and devotion shown towards the team during its successful 1971 season. The success of the staff-prefects' win must also be attributed to Mr. Williams for his "new" approach to rugby.

The team won the Third Grade Competition without losing a game; the team's line was crossed only once and that was a penalty try.

The team's strength revolved around the play of a solid forward pack which was admirably led by T. Nicolson. The combination of C. Morland (half-back) and B. McKechnie (first five-eighth), the steady play of the three-quarters and the attacking flair of C. Wilson at full-back complemented the play of the forward pack. The improvement and dedication of the younger players in the team was particularly pleasing and augers well for future seasons.

Finally, our thanks to the many parents and friends who supported the team each Saturday; this support and loyalty was most encouraging and greatly appreciated by the whole team.

Critiques

CHRIS MORLAND (Captain)—half-back: Played many outstanding games, particularly against Otago and Rongotai. His fierce, competitive spirit rubbed off on a number of the younger players. Proved to be a first-class Captain and without doubt, a half-back of considerable promise.

TREVOR NICOLSON (Vice-Captain)—loose forward: A strong, mature player. Excelled in setting up rucks from loose ball and also driving forward with the ball in hand. Made an invaluable contribution to the team's success and spirit through his dedication to the game.

ALISTER MURRAY — prop: An honest toiler. Jumped well at No. 2 in the line-out. Very strong and is quickly learning the finer arts of scrummaging. Will be a decided asset next year.

IVAN DALE—prop: Raw at the beginning of the season but improved tremendously. A mobile player who was good value at winning ball from rucks and mauls.

ARTHUR BALLANTYNE—prop: The most experienced prop—a very strong scrummager. Gave invaluable support to the line-out jumpers when he played as block in the line-out. Also played steadily as loose forward. Probably the fittest player in the side.

The advertisement features a large, stylized black and white illustration of a pig's head and body. The pig is depicted in a dynamic, almost dancing pose, with its front legs slightly bent and its tail curved. The background is plain white, making the black silhouette stand out. The text "SIMPSON'S BUTCHERY" is written in a bold, sans-serif font, with "SIMPSON'S" on one line and "BUTCHERY" on the line below it. Above the "SIMPSON'S" part, there is a smaller line of text that reads "Quality Meats at...". Below the "BUTCHERY" part, another line of text reads "PHONE 88-263".

FIRST RUGBY FIFTEEN

Back row: I. E. Dale, P. J. Twiss, J. K. Fraser, A. J. Murray, L. J. Brown

Middle row: W. M. Belesky, L. D. Wohlers, R. J. Weeds, Mr. C. R. Williams (Coach), S. A. Fleming, P. W. Schmidt, J. L. Ballam

Front row: A. S. Ballantyne, P. N. Jones, I. C. Wilson, C. W. Morland (Captain), T. J. Nicolson (Vice-Captain), J. R. Cuthill, B. J. McKechnie

LINDSAY BROWN—hooker: A vigorous player who acquitted himself well in his first season. Swift striker who was never bested in the tight-head count. Needs greater mobility in loose play.

PHILIP JONES—lock: Was a tower of strength in tight play. Played a fine game against Otago. Showed a surprising turn of speed in the open. His play was more purposeful this year. A good season.

JOHN FRASER—lock: Young, but what he lacked in experience more than compensated for by determination and courage. Needs to concentrate on line-out play. Will be a real force in the years to come.

STEWART FLEMING—loose forward: Light but equally effective in both the tight and loose. Displayed fine anticipation and ball sense.

JOHN CUTHILL—No. 8: Had a heavy load to carry this season and did a grand job. An outstanding line-out jumper but did not always get effective support. Extremely fast, he curbed a tendency to run across the field when in possession of the ball. Covered well from set play.

BRIAN McKECHNIE—first five-eighth: A cool and steady pivot. Well equipped in talents—safe hands, powerful punt. Had an outstanding season with his boot —248 points. An incisive blind-side runner.

RUSSELL WEEDS—second five-eighth: Was a solid link—very hard tackler. Played steady football this season. Still needs to curb the tendency of running too far with the ball.

JOHN BALLAM—centre: Is a player of considerable promise. Particularly incisive attacker from broken play. Needs to concentrate on passing and handling. Can be pleased with his first season of First Fifteen rugby.

LEX WOHLERS—wing: Made great progress during the season. The fastest winger in the School for many years. Scored some outstanding tries, two in particular against Rongotai. Some deficiencies in defensive play need to be ironed out, but a good contribution to the team effort.

WAYNE BELESKY—wing: His play was more purposeful this season. A strong, bullocking runner. Covered well. Should concentrate on his handling and developing a centre kick.

CHRIS WILSON—full-back: Reluctant at first but blossomed into the side's most devastating attacker. Scored many brilliant tries. Played a memorable game against Waitaki at Rugby Park. Was a grand team man who made a big contribution to the team's success and spirit.

FOR TIMBER, JOINERY, BUILDERS, and FARMERS SUPPLIES.

PETER SCHMIDT — three-quarter: Did not get many opportunities but was a solid runner with the ball.

PHILLIP TWISS—three-quarter: Raw but determined. Played a courageous game as full-back against King's. Should develop into a strong player next season.

GAME REPORTS

v. O.B.H.S. at Invercargill—11-11

Played on a firm ground, this was a most exciting and closely-fought match. Southland's forwards and backs combined well to press attack after attack, only to be thwarted by fearless tackling from the Otago backs.

School notched the first points, a penalty goal kicked by McKechnie. However, Otago quickly applied the pressure with a try which was converted. The half-time score was 5-3 to Otago.

The second half was a different story with the Southland forwards dominating all phases of play. Early in the spell L. Wohlers dived on an elusive loose ball to score—this was the reward for excellent following up. B. McKechnie converted and Southland led 8-5. For most of the spell Otago were on the defensive and made only sporadic raids into Southland territory. However, late in the game Otago were awarded two penalties in quick succession and led 11-8. In the dying stages of the game, Southland mounted an attack from half way to allow C. Morland to score in the corner. The conversion fell short and the game ended with the score 11-all.

Southland was most unlucky not to win. The team generally outplayed their opponents in most phases of play, particularly in rucks. This was the first occasion since 1966 that School had either won or drawn with Otago.

v. Waitaki at Rugby Park, Invercargill—9-9

Played on a rather puggy ground as the curtain-raiser to the Lions-Southland match, School was rather lucky to draw this encounter with a strong Waitaki side.

School won the toss and elected to play into the sun. They settled down quickly and hustled Waitaki into making numerous mistakes. The School pack had a definite edge over their opponents in this half, but a number of excellent scoring opportunities were wasted. B. McKechnie kicked three fine penalties and at half time School led 9-0. This looked to be a winning position.

In the second spell, School's play was disappointing—the forwards were weary and lacked fire but were held together by T. Nicolson who had an outstanding game. Also, the Waitaki backs were helped by the weak tackling of the School backs. Waitaki, helped by a decisive share of the ball, took their opportunities, but were able to notch only two tries. Many of their attacks foundered on the superb defence of C. Wilson, who was without doubt the outstanding back on the field. The game was one of wasted opportunities for both sides.

v. King's at Dunedin—17-11

In ideal weather, on a firm ground, School comfortably defeated a spirited King's side.

School had a distinct weight advantage and won a steady supply of good ball from line-outs and scrums.

Both sets of backs were competent and generally cancelled each other out with solid tackling—J. Ballam and R. Weeds were particularly outstanding in this respect.

King's opened the scoring at a time when School had only 14 men—C. Wilson left the field with concussion. King's led 5-0. School took some time to settle down but the forwards gradually worked their way back into the game. W. Belesky scored a good opportunist try, after scooping up a misdirected clearing kick. Shortly before half time McKechnie drop-kicked a goal to make the score 6-5 to School.

School took control after the break: J. Cuthill ran 30 yards to score an outstanding try and McKechnie kicked a penalty for School to lead 12-5. King's came closer with a penalty but School put the issue beyond doubt with a try to Wohlers after the ball had been spun quickly through the backline. In the last moments of the game, King's scored to make the final score 17-11.

Fine games were played by the School loose forwards, Cuthill, Nicolson and Ballantyne. P. Twiss gave a courageous display at full-back.

v. T.B.H.S. at Timaru—27-9

Play was centred mostly in the backs and it was here that the game sparkled. Initially, much emphasis was placed by School on long, raking kicks to find gaps in the Timaru defence. B. McKechnie's well-played punts put Southland into a number of attacking positions. Wilson had a slow start in this game but later came into the backline with spectacular results.

School scored first, after a mid-field break by Ballam who put Wohlers in by the posts. McKechnie converted. 5-0. This was followed by a McKechnie penalty and a try to A. Ballantyne after some intelligent play by L. Brown and S. Fleming. Timaru kicked two penalties and the half-time score was 13-6 to School.

School took control in the second spell. Belesky scored, McKechnie kicked a penalty to make the score 19-6 with 20 minutes left in the game. School scored two good tries—the first to S. Fleming which was a reward for a very fine display. Late in the game, C. Wilson scored a brilliant try after Morland had run from a ruck. Timaru had the final say by scoring a well-deserved try to make the final score 27-9 to School. This was the first time for many years that School had won at Timaru.

v. R.B.H.S. at Rotorua—21-10

In the first game of the North Island tour, School played scrappy football for most of the match. The main reason was that the team was travel-weary. The forwards lacked cohesion and fire while the backs spoilt their efforts through handling mistakes.

School were rocked back by a series of penalties and were on defence for long periods of the first half. Morland scored after a break by McKechnie. School went further into the lead with a good penalty from McKechnie and a dropped goal by the same player. Half-time score 11-0.

School became hustled in the second spell—Rotorua scored two quick tries to come within one point of School—11-10. Rotorua missed two easy penalties and School defended desperately. With 10 minutes left, School rallied and scored two good tries—one to Morland, the other to McKechnie who converted both. The finish by School was encouraging. B. McKechnie had a notable day with his boot, scoring 15 points.

v. Tauranga Boys' College at Tauranga—38-3

School trounced a composite Tauranga side in a fine display of driving forward play and hard running by the backs. Most of Tauranga's XV were involved in another fixture. Nevertheless a good display by School.

School led 22-0 at half time. Tries were scored by L. Wohlers (3) and W. Belesky (1). McKechnie kicked two conversions, a penalty, and a dropped goal.

Tauranga, at a serious height and weight disadvantage in the forwards, continued to defend gallantly but could do little to stem the flow of points. J. Ballam, C. Morland and B. McKechnie scored tries, McKechnie kicking two conversions. B. McKenzie kicked an excellent dropped goal from about 45 yards.

All of the forwards played well, with Jones and Fraser most prominent in the tight. The loose forwards were too strong and fast for their opposites and L. Brown had a field day in the tight-head count. In the backs, the three-quarters (Ballam, Belesky and Wohlers) played particularly well.

v. Hamilton Boys' at Hamilton—8-0

The team was eager to avenge School's loss in 1966 at Invercargill. Therefore the result was very pleasing. The match was a close one but the driving play of the School pack carried the day. Most of the efforts in the backs were individual ones: B. McKenzie turned in a competent performance at full-back.

School lost the toss and played into a strong wind. Hamilton wasted their use of the wind through inept kicking. The School forwards secured a good share of possession whilst the backs defended solidly. B. McKechnie kicked two penalties and School led 6-0 at half time.

School never really looked in danger of defeat in the second spell, despite a number of breaks by the Hamilton three-quarters. Ballam scored an excellent opportunist try after a Hamilton back fumbled the ball on his own goal-line.

Perhaps the deciding factor in School's win was the rucking and strong scrummaging of the forwards.

v. Rongotai College at Wellington—11-6

This was easily the hardest game of the tour and the best from School's point of view in terms of a team effort. School lost P. Jones, B. McKenzie and M. Clay through injuries, but their replacements I. Dale, D. Lawrence and I. Singleton made sterling contributions.

Rongotai were formidable scrummagers but the School pack stuck gamely to its task. L. Wohlers scored two tries and McKechnie converted one try and kicked a long-range penalty.

SECOND RUGBY FIFTEEN

Back row: T. J. Crozier, D. J. Ramsay, T. J. McPherson, M. C. Clay, S. E. Greig

Middle row: B. W. McKenzie, B. M. Poole, N. D. Boniface, D. V. Anson, P. N. T. Lindsay, Mr. V. W. Bemrose (Coach)

Front row: D. W. Lawrence, P. Wainui, P. G. Bugden, R. H. Dobson (Captain), R. A. Redpath (Vice-Captain), I. G. Singleton, R. G. Bourchier

Seated on floor: R. N. Blackie, D. W. Hamill

The whole team played well, but mention should be made of the outstanding performance of C. Morland who, by example, rallied the side splendidly in desperate situations. The win was a fine effort because Rongotai is one of the strongest school sides in Wellington.

SECOND FIFTEEN

Captain: R. Dobson Coach: Mr. Bemrose

This year the 2nd XV finished runners-up to Hargest in the Fourth Grade Competition. Although losing the same number of games as Hargest, a succession of unfortunate draws diminished our chances of winning the competition.

Club Record: Played 14, won 9, lost 1, drew 4.
Inter-school Record

Against Otago Boys'—lost 6-3

Both sides were evenly matched in this game. Although Otago dominated the line-outs with their taller men, the School side held the edge in scrums and dominated the rucks. Play see-sawed from end to end with neither side gaining an advantage. Otago were on target with a penalty just before half time, but School replied early in the second half when Lawrence goaled. Just on full time Otago scored a disputed try to win the game.

Against Waitaki Boys'—won 14-11

From the kick-off our team combined well, putting the opposition under pressure and were rewarded when Bourchier scored after an orthodox back move. An inspired forward pack kept us on attack when Boniface scored a try for Lawrence to convert. Near half time Singleton kicked a fine penalty goal—11-0.

After half time our side began to tire and, feeling that the game was won, loosened the defence for the visitors to score three tries and convert one. Near full time, however, Bourchier charged down a clearing kick and scored to make the final score 14-11.

The Team

In the forwards, Singleton hooked well and proved to be a useful goal-kicker. Crozier and Ramsay played well in the tight, with Ramsay's occasional burst in the open surprising many. Clay, Bugden and McPherson, although lacking in height, played consistently, with Clay leading many of the forward rushes.

Of the loose forwards, Poole was quick to the loose ball and covered well, Boniface was the top try scorer in the forwards, and Redpath led the pack well.

At the half-back, Hamill, although lacking experience, tried hard and improved as the season progressed. The five-eighths, Blackie and Lawrence, acted mainly as links although Lawrence made some good breaks with his strong running. Lawrence's goal-kicking, although inconsistent, saved the day in many games. Of the three-quarters, Bourchier top-scored with 10 tries scored mainly with his speed and ability to run around his opposite. Wainui tried hard but was inclined to sidestep on occasions instead of running straight.

At full-back, McKenzie was brilliant. His ability to run out of trouble and counter-attack amazed everyone. His sorties into the backline proved most effective and his line-kicking was always safe.

The reserves, Lindsay, Greig and Anson, all accounted for themselves well in the games they played, and thanks to G. Murdoch for playing when called upon.

The team expresses its thanks to Mr. Bemrose for his patience and time he so willingly gave in coaching the side.

FIFTH GRADE A

Captain: L. Eade Coach: Mr. Fitzgerald

Although not as experienced and as successful as previous A teams, the team can thank Mr. Fitzgerald for introducing a thinking game of rugby.

At full-back Stevenson acquitted himself well, as did the wings Insull and White. At centre or first five, Forbes was the initiator of many tries; Belesky at centre was resourceful and quick off the mark. Thompson at second five and Walker at half-back were good, steady players all through the season.

Whilst in the forwards Shepherd and Toole proved to be versatile and active loose forwards, Lindsay, O'Connor, Miller, G. Boniface and Tait were a very sound tight-loose core. Service, Coleman, Grieve, Ballantyne were extremely apt at filling in wherever required.

The inter-school game against Lumsden was won 13-6.

Belesky, Eade, Lindsay and Miller were selected for the Town Fifth Grade representative team, whilst B. Lindsay and R. Forbes went on to represent the School in the Southland Under 16 representatives. Lindsay and Forbes also qualified for the South Island Under 16 representatives and Rest of South Island respectively.

FIFTH GRADE B

Captain: K. Burden Coach: Mr. Crouch

The team opened the season well by beating the Hargest B team and continued with surprising success throughout the season, including a defeat of the School A team. Although the team finished halfway in the top section of the competition, its good spirit contributed to the School attaining the S.R.F.U. Conduct Cup.

A steady combination of Cook, Burden, Wilson, Cambridge and Scheele in the backs was later in the season reinforced by Slaughter, Skelt and Hopgood. Cambridge's defence was second to none and Cook and Burden combined well on attack. Consistent play by McCrostie, Mark, Patterson, Little, Coldicott, Silke, Cameron and D. McKenzie supplied the backs with a good clean ball. The forwards were fortunate to have the support later in the season of F. McKenzie and Flaus. However, the forwards felt the loss of Blick through injury. D. Cook was selected to play for the Town Fifth Grade team.

Our thanks go to Mr. Crouch for his valuable assistance in coaching and support throughout the season.

Team.—Backs: W. Cambridge, I. Boniface, M. Scheele, P. Osborne, R. Haverty, A. Wilson, M. Slaughter, T. Hopgood, P. Skelt, K. Burden, D. Cook, D. Roe. Forwards: N. Mark, R. Patterson, D. McKenzie, G. McCrostie, D. Cameron, R. Silke, M. Little, N. Coldicott, F. McKenzie, J. Flaus, C. Noble, R. Blick, R. Crawford.

SIXTH GRADE A

Captain: M. Bell Coach: Mr. Scott

Vice-Captain: R. Haslemore

Record: Played 12, won 12. Points: For 309, against 49.

The team played good attacking rugby throughout the season and fully deserved to win the local competition. Key factors in the team's successes were dedication and enthusiasm and the ability of the team to play as a unit. It would be unfair to sort out any players who stood out; such was the team effort in each game.

Special thanks are due to the coaching efforts of Mr. Scott and also Mr. Currie who took over the role in the absence of our regular coach.

The team also expresses its thanks to the members of our B team who turned out for us in the absence of regular players.

Team members: R. Murdoch, W. Spence, R. Fowler, A. Taylor, R. Guise, M. Bell, C. Manson, R. Haslemore, W. Fairbanks, R. Mead, D. White, J. Reid, J. Hildebrand, P. Wilkens, B. Everett, P. Martin.

SIXTH GRADE B

Captain: B. Jones Coach: Mr. Clarke

Vice-Captain: I. Brown

We started the season well with a win against Southland College but failed to register another win until Hargest in the second round. This was an evenly-matched game with everyone giving a good performance. Our third and final win came in the last round when we beat Hargest once more. This was the best game our backs played, scoring five tries, three going to I. Brown. Unfortunately we lost nine games, the most memorable against our 6th A team which had previously beaten us 48-0. We played very well but went down 10-3.

Players of distinction during the season were I. Brown and R. McLean in the backs, and M. Ross, I. Pethig and B. Brown in the forwards. The team showed good sportsmanship throughout the season.

We wish to thank Mr. Clarke for his time, effort and coaching during the season and special thanks to Mr. Ross who coached us in the latter part of the season. His coaching was invaluable and the team showed tremendous improvement for the last few games.

Team: Aitken, Oughton, McLean, Winsloe, McKnight, Paris, Ross, Peek, I. Brown, B. Brown, Jones, Pethig, McNaught, Hamilton, Turner, Paul, Russel, Schmidt, Millow, Roche.

SEVENTH GRADE A

Captain: R. A. Ward Coach: Mr. Sinton

Played 10, won 10

The team had a very successful season and in doing so won the Seventh Grade Competition, but we were unfortunate in not having a reliable kicker. This is borne out in the fact that we scored 67 tries and of these only 15 were converted.

There was only one team which really tested our ability and that was Hargest A. We played them twice, winning narrowly 6-3 and 8-6.

On behalf of the team, I would like to thank Mr. Sinton for coaching us, and we owe it to him for winning the tougher games because he built up confidence among the team and this helped our play immensely.

The team was: R. A. Ward, R. E. Logan, B. L. Howard, G. G. McAuliffe, M. I. Rankin, L. A. Gray, A. P. Ferguson, D. G. Matheson, B. J. Gilbertson, D. J. Simpson, K. G. Harper, A. D. Pannet, S. M. Gould, K. A. Gough, A. F. Mavor, D. H. Mahon, P. J. Stevenson, I. R. Calder, S. J. D. Whitefield.

SEVENTH GRADE B

Captain: A. D. Pierce Coach: Mr. M. Preece

The team, although not particularly successful, played in fine spirit and showed consistent sportsmanship. The results of the matches played were 2 wins and 8 losses out of 10 games. Even though the team lost the majority of the matches, the team spirit did not suffer. The team played its best matches against Marist and Hargest B, beating Hargest B twice and being unlucky to lose to Marist.

Our thanks to our coach, Mr. Preece. His encouragement was a great help.

The members of the team were: A. Pierce, P. McKinney, G. Lietze, M. Christie, E. Roberts, S. Wells, B. McIntosh, C. Godby, A. Parker, J. McCormack, P. Houston, J. Anderson, L. Kelly, P. Davis, S. Leask, R. Anderson, D. Dunstan, R. Everett.

EIGHTH GRADE

Captain: A. Cundall Coach: Mr. Pethig

The team played good football throughout the season and showed consistent sportsmanship. The result of the matches played was: 2 wins, 3 draws and 7 losses. The team very much appreciated the help of our coach, Mr. Pethig, and would like to thank him for his efforts.

The forwards were the strength of the team led by Sloan, Kahuroa and Stockwell. Unfortunately Kahuroa, Toole and Langford did not join the team till late in the season, with all three proving to be very worthwhile forwards.

In the backs, McCallum, McCall and Shields showed up above a good line of backs.

Also, special thanks to Mr. Langford who stepped in to replace Mr. Pethig when he was unavoidably detained.

Leading points scorer for the season was McCallum, scoring 1 try, kicking 3 penalties and 1 conversion.

Team: A. Cundall (Captain), I. Grafton (Vice-Captain), N. Bourchier, G. Erskine, J. Hammington, R. Johnstone, P. Kidd, M. Lindsay, J. McCall, H. McCallum, D. McKinney, S. Riles, D. Shields, A. Sloan, D. Stockwell, R. Agnew, J. Boyd, R. Dean, M. Furness, M. Little, L. Warnock, P. Langford, J. Toole, M. Kahuroa.

FIRST ELEVEN

This year, with only three permanent players returning from last year, a rather young and inexperienced team was fielded. Although all players improved in playing ability throughout the year, this season can be seen as a building-up for future seasons. As several Fourth Formers were "blooded" to First Grade soccer, this investment should pay off through the experience gained. However, this should not reflect badly on the team, which played a high standard of soccer in the Senior Grade in Invercargill. Most of the players were prepared to give of their best throughout the season, even though success was not forthcoming.

Critiques

G. ALSWEILER (Captain)—centre-back: Started season shakily but by the middle had developed into one of our best defenders. Tackled with vigour and showed determination that was lacking in some other members of the team.

R. BRAGG—right-wing and inside-right. Changes between these two positions decreased his effect as he had trouble with his location when on attack. With more speed Russell could have become a good attacking forward.

M. De La MARE—left-back: Mark improved throughout the year mainly through his determination. His steadiness on defence was an important advantage to the team as a whole. Mark will be a good asset next year.

S. GRANT (Vice-Captain)—inside-left: Stuart has the ability to move past all but the best of defenders and at times split the opposing defence wide open. However, much of his effectiveness was lost due to lack of constructive support from his forwards.

S. ERECKSON—centre-back: While playing centre-back, Stephen was the mainstay of our strong defence. However, a shift to the half line later in the season decreased his contribution. A most valuable asset for next year.

P. ERECKSON—centre-half: A noticeable improvement over the year was Paul's ball distribution. Paul played the game with rare determination, tackling and playing hard.

B. HALDER—left-half: Bruce has skill which if moulded properly will make him a very good player. With quicker passing and a more determined attitude, Bruce will improve next year.

FIRST SOCCER ELEVEN

Back row: Mr. J. F. Vercauteren (Coach), B. J. Hawkes, M. De La Mare, B. L. Halder, S. K. Erickson, I. D. McAuliffe, Mr. N. G. Bennett (Trainer)
Front row: P. A. Erickson, R. J. Hesson, S. Grant (Vice-Captain), G. A. Alsweiler (Captain), L. A. Grantham, J. M. Williamson, R. S. Bragg

R. GRANTHAM—right-half: Richard had raw skill which although used to good advantage this year must be further moulded. Richard must learn to accept the responsibilities of First Grade soccer.

B. HAWKES—right-half: Barry gave of his best in most games but was at times inconsistent. However, with increased determination, he will enjoy further success in soccer.

R. HESSON—right-wing: Early in the season Robin toiled hard on the right-wing. Although rather small for First Grade his effectiveness was noticeable. With a year's growth Robin will fill a most necessary role in the team as a defender, his true positon.

K. JOHNSTONE—goalkeeper: Keith became steadier and more reliable throughout the season. His keen anticipation led to some fine saves which took pressure off the defence.

I. McAULIFFE—left-wing: A natural left-footer, Ian was most effective around the goal-mouth, where he scored often from following in crosses from the right-wing.

J. WILLIAMSON—inside-right: Jock's main attribute was his ball distribution, which was very accurate. However, lack of size enabled defenders to dominate him. A good future is seen for Jock.

W. EMERSON—right-back: Wayne joined the team later in the season and showed much promise for next season. Although lacking height showed coolness under pressure.

INTER-SCHOOL GAMES

v. Otago Boys'—lost 4-1

News of formidable opposition preceded Otago Boys' arrival; however, two of their best players were unable to make the trip. Nevertheless the Otago team was still strong. Wet conditions made play difficult and as a result tackles often became foul—two of Otago's goals came from free kicks just outside the penalty box. Inexperience showed when the large centre-back from Otago asserted his presence on the field. Southland forwards were unhappy faced with this obstacle and lost some of their determination.

Scorers: Otago—Moodie 3, Harley 1; Southland—Grant penalty.

v. Linwood—lost 4-1

Though bustling play in the first half upset the pattern of play which Linwood employed, we were able to hold them to a 1-1 draw at half time—McAuliffe scoring after a misdirected shot from Grant. After a fortunate goal by Linwood and a goal by one of our defenders the spirit was lost from the team. Final score: Linwood 4, Southland 1.

v. King's High—lost 3-1

After an own goal in the first half and also a missed penalty the will to win was gone—McAuliffe scored but we were unable to bridge the gap. Final result 3-1.

v. Timaru Boys'—lost 2-0

Showing tiredness from the trip, some of our best play was not reproduced. Strange interpretations by the referee upset all the players and although dominating play many times we were unable to score. Timaru's first goal was scored from a narrow angle and while we were attacking Timaru scored a runaway goal. It was felt by both sides that a draw would have been a fair result. Final result: Timaru 2, Southland 0.

Record

Club Games: Played 18, won 3, lost 15; goals for 39, against 78.

Inter-schools: Played 4, lost 4; goals for 3, against 13.

Top Scorers: S. Grant 14, I. McAuliffe 8, S. Ereckson 4.

A comparison of standards with other schools was given when we played Marist College 1st XI, winners of Third Grade Competition in which all other High School 1st XI's play. This game we won 15 goals to 2.

Our thanks to Mr. Vercauteren for patient coaching and attempts to raise our standard of play throughout the year. Also to Mr. Bennett for his fitness coaching and his help as a player.

SECOND ELEVEN

Captain: M. Carter Coach: Mr. N. G. Bennett

After a poor start to the season the team settled down and instead of playing as individuals worked together. Losing the first six games by quite a large margin, the team strived out and held the opponents to draws and wins.

The team's co-operation was fantastic, with every member doing his best, and on the field they played like true sportsmen—which led to the success in winning the Conduct Cup. Lacking the knowledge and experience of many of the senior teams in the competition, the team made up for this by keenness and determination and the aggressive defending of L. Hazely in goals.

In the Knockout Competition the first game played was against Thistle, who had previously won the last competition. It resulted in a 1-all draw which meant a replay the following week. This the team won 5-4 after a hard-fought-out game, being down 3-1 at half time. We then made the final of this competition, playing against Waihopai, and lost 5-2 as the opponents were far more experienced.

Inter-school: S.B.H.S. v. Gore (played at Gore)—won 3-1. Conditions were on hard ground with a hot, dry wind which made the team unsettled, and Neil McArthur was out because of injury. After a scrappy first half the score was 1-all. By keeping on attack in the second half, Gore High had little opportunity of scoring and we conceded the game 3-1. The help of S. Grant from the Firsts was very valuable. Goal scorers Grant 2, Hannon 1.

The Players: L. Hazely, R. Barnsdale, W. Fiebig, G. Hannon, M. Carter, P. Middlemiss, M. Early, D. Clarke, N. McArthur, N. Hayes, T. Frew, R. Anderson, S. Mackrell.

Special thanks to coach Mr. N. G. Bennett and Mr. J. H. M. Smith for support on Saturdays.

THIRD GRADE

Captain: T. Furness Coach: Mr. R. A. F. Lonsdale

Our first game against Marist was lost (10-nil) probably because of bad co-ordination and that they were the superior team.

From then on the various scores decreased in points. Halfway during the season Mr. Lonsdale took over the challenging job as coach of the team. Many thanks are due to him for his time given up in moulding us into a team and for his Tuesday and Wednesday night practices. I am sure that we gained from his knowledge. This season was not particularly successful. The closest we had to winning was a 2-all draw with Southland College.

The team was: I. Bannister, H. Braam, D. Carter, D. Dimmock, A. Dixon, P. Farr, S. Furness, T. Furness, D. Kirkbright, D. Laws, C. Pool, T. Snow, A. Wilson, D. McKillop.

FIFTH GRADE A

Captain: R. Hesson Coach: Mr. Cassee

The team had a very successful season. It won the Manda Trophy and was undefeated in 12 games.

Results were: Played 11, won 11, lost 0; goals for 63, against 7; total points 22. Top scorers were J. Williamson 20, W. Hartley 15, G. Putt 8. The team also defeated a Tweedsmuir XI, 5-1.

The team: D. Robertson, W. Emerson, R. Hesson (Captain), J. Horseman, T. Cassee, H. Hawkes, J. Williamson, E. Horseman, G. Putt, W. Hartley, I. McCormack, R. Tangney; W. Emerson, R. Hesson and J. Williamson being chosen for the Southland Under 14 team.

Our thanks to Mr. Cassee for his assistance in coaching and managing the team.

FIFTH GRADE B

Members in the team are:—

Captain: O. Smith 4C1 Coach: A. Fleming

Vice-Captain: G. Mark 3B2

The other members are:—P. Snow 3A, M. Leatham 4D, L. Broad 4D, I. McLellan 4C2, R. Williams 4C1, C. White 4C1, I. Thomas 4C1, A. Rowsell 4C1, B. Davis 4C1, I. McCreath 4B1, M. Hamilton 4A.

The most outstanding players in the team were White, Snow, Mark and Smith, Mark being the best player in the side. The team played 9 games, lost 5, drew 1, and won 3. The coach of the team was A. Fleming, of the Fifth Form, who through his efforts made the team a lot better than what it was last year.

Basketball

FIRST FIVE

Captain: C. J. McLennan Coach: G. D. Alabaster

This year the team deservedly had more success than usual. Although the games record wasn't as good as we had hoped, by halfway through the season we had developed very good team-work. This was due to concentrated efforts by both the team and Mr. Alabaster which produced a good team's spirit and thus made the season a most enjoyable one.

We again played in the men's B Grade Competition, and although we took a while to settle down (losing three early games) we soon found form, and from there on our basketball improved tremendously. The result was that we didn't lose another game, beating both the competition winners and Hargest. This gave us second equal position with Hargest.

Although the team lacked height, through the experienced and expert coaching of Mr. Alabaster the team soon made up for the lack in height in good team-work, which no doubt was the reason for the successful season. Because of this, the team would like to thank Mr. Alabaster for his valuable coaching in teaching each of us our position and responsibilities on the court.

During the season McLennan, Harris, McLean and Webb played for Southland Colts.

INTER-SCHOOL MATCHES

v. O.B.H.S.—lost 96-48

This turned out to be a black day for the School team. With McLean absent, the team had difficulty in setting up a co-ordinated attack to break the strong Otago Boys' High School side. Although School played hard and fast basketball, the more experienced and taller team of Otago Boys' High School controlled most of the back-board play which is so important in basketball. As the score shows, Otago Boys' High School were never in any difficulty. The game was played at Surrey Park.

v. Waitaki Boys' High School—won 74-39

This was a new inter-school fixture for basketball and was played for the first time at Surrey Park. With the whole team present and the lesson having been learnt, the School team played very well. Although Waitaki Boys' High School had a slight advantage in height, solid team-work by School soon found the weaknesses in the Waitaki Boys' High School zone defence which resulted in a runaway win in the second half. The score at half time was 33-27 to School.

v. King's High School—last 45-58

This proved to be a disappointing game for the School team. Playing in the King's High School gym., School had great difficulty in mastering the much smaller court. With both teams even in ability, the familiar court gave King's High School an advantage which the School team could not quite overcome. King's High School held a slight lead throughout the game and although School had a chance halfway through the second half, it couldn't get the edge over King's High School.

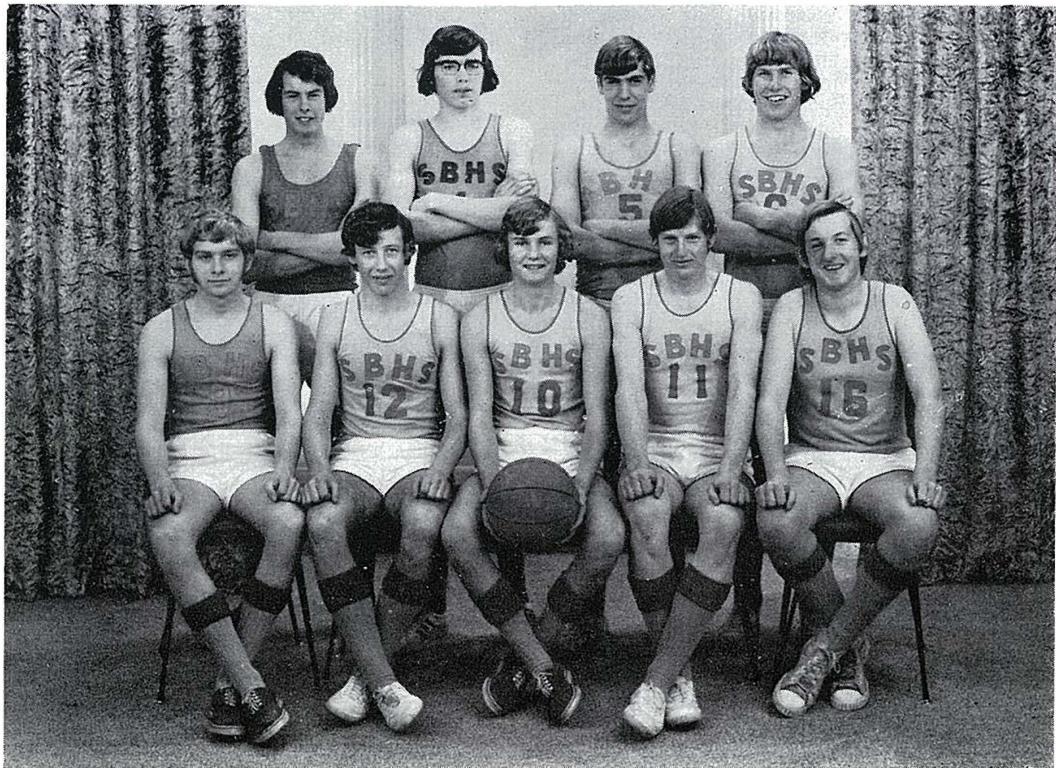

B. McLEAN: Brett was undoubtedly the key player in the team. He improved throughout the season and proved to be a most capable and reliable centre. His attitude also improved immensely during the season. Brett was top scorer in the team, often scoring 20-30 points a game.

M. HARRIS: Maurice, the Vice-Captain, has considerable talent, but had lapses in concentration and at no stage shot with the consistency shown last year. Maurice played well in the inter-schools games and was adept at bringing the ball up court under pressure.

C. MCLENNAN: Chris, the Captain, accepted the responsibilities and carried them out in a competent manner. His play became more solid and soundly based as the season progressed. Chris's shooting was much improved, although his court work was a little stereotyped.

J. FLAUS: John played as a forward and proved to be most useful for rebounds with his aggressive play. John always rose to the occasion in the inter-school games.

R. BLACK: Rodney, like John, was of great assistance under the basket. With a little more experience, Rod should become a good basketballer. During the season Rod showed that he has considerable potential.

FIRST BASKETBALL FIVE

Back row: P. J. Cross, B. M. McLean, P. S. Webb, T. J. McPherson

Front row: N. A. McDowell, B. R. Riddell, C. J. McLennan (Captain), R. G. Black, C. D. Jakeway

Absent: M. J. Harris, J. M. Flaus

B. RIDDELL: Bruce played as a guard, and although he sometimes preferred to pass rather than shoot, he made up for this by good and solid defence. Bruce was always unobtrusive and unselfish.

P. WEBB: Paul, the youngest member of the team, improved throughout the season. His height and good percentage of long-range shots were an asset to the team.

T. McPHERSON: Tim was big and rough. Torn between basketball and rugby, he consequently didn't develop to his full potential.

N. McDOWELL: Neil was a good and reliable team player; however, he did not improve on his previous season's form. A gentleman.

C. JAKEWAY and P. CROSS: Colin and Peter both played the occasional game during the season.

SECOND FIVE

We had a disappointing year as far as the competitions went but we offer our congratulations to the S.B.H.S. Teachers' team that won our C Grade Competition. Each of our tussles with them was extremely hard fought and we really appreciated the opportunity to meet them on neutral grounds. They proved once again that youth is no match for experience and downright cunning. We did, however, have a friendly team and were well turned out and showed sportsmanship throughout the season.

The team suffered generally in its playing by a lack of purpose, experience and team co-operation, and tended to be erratic and nervous under pressure. P. Cross and C. Jakeway earned themselves promotion to the First Five during the season.

G. MILLS (Captain): Key man in team, aggressive, fast on his feet, competent on defence, has good goal-shooting average but lacks self-confidence, is inconsistent on offence and too nervous.

J. ALABASTER: Good guard and rebounder, reasonable shot, but slow on offence and inclined to get cornered.

A. BALL (The Red Terror): Most co-operative and aggressive player, truly dynamic at times, fast and hard-working, a reliable guard, but lacked ability to drive successfully near basket.

R. DAVIES: Good team member, improved during season; however, inconsistent and hesitant in action.

G. McMILLAN: Good team member, reliable defence, drilling let him down, shooting improved though.

B. MCPHERSON: Has ability to attack well, good driver, reasonable shoot, improved during season.

B. URWIN: Improved remarkably throughout season, overcame his hesitancy, willing player; however, not aggressive enough, could use height more.

S. WILD: Good team member, hard worker, reliable on defence but an inconsistent shot.

Thanks, Lindsay (L. S. Walker, our coach), you gave up a lot of time and proved to be a competent and reliable coach and a good instructor.

SENIOR A

Captain: David Cross Coach: M. Harris

The team played very well, winning the Senior Competition over two rounds.

There were six teams competing. Sickness played havoc; for over four consecutive weeks the team had only five members able to play. This meant no reserves. This inconvenience was handled very well.

Team members: David Cross (Captain), Barry Davies, Neil State, MacCulloch, Gordon Bennett, Stephen Laphorne.

C INTERMEDIATE

Captain: Alex Wilson Coach: Chris McLennan

The team won the Intermediate Basketball Competition with a fine record of one loss and nine wins.

The team consists of: Alex Wilson (Captain), Andrew McLennan, Mark Stewart, David Simpson, Ian Sherborne, Murray Burns, Neil Scott.

Captain: A. Dickson Coach: C. Jakeway

The Junior D team had a very good record of games, beating the top C team and coming second in the competition, but of course this could not have been done without the outstanding support of our star coach, Jake-way.

Team members for 1971: A. Dickson (Captain), R. Crawford, A. Hogg (invalided out), G. Butson, L. Wilson, K. Todd, G. Lietze, P. Mulder.

REFEREEING

This season three schoolboys became members of the Southland Basketball Referees' Association and took part in their referees' instruction classes. They gained experience refereeing local competition grades during the season and found it an enjoyable and informative aspect of the game. By the end of the season two of them, G. J. Mills and S. M. Wild, had passed at District level and National N.Z. Basketball Referees' theory examination. They recommend refereeing as a rewarding side of basketball to any senior boys interested. From it a deeper understanding of the rules and set-up of the game is gained. But, more important, a good basketball game needs two good referees; through refereeing the opportunity is there to ensure teams enjoy good basketball. Only with competent referees will the standard and following of the game increase. Any keen basketballer will find it well worth while, both personally and for sport, to become a competent referee active in local competition grades. The Referees' Association hope more boys will take part in their classes next season.

FIRST HOCKEY ELEVEN

Back row: G. D. Johnstone, D. E. Annear, A. J. Morison

Middle row: R. H. M. Smith, R. A. Butler, R. A. Neilson, K. G. Sandri, W. J. Ballantyne, Mr. R. G. James (Coach)

Front row: G. D. Burns, N. S. Riley, B. K. Sherborne (Captain), G. W. Patterson, D. L. Balfour

Captain: Brian Sherborne Coach: Mr. R. James

The team played exceptionally well this year, as can be seen from the inter-school results.

- v. King's High School—S.B.H.S. won 4-1.
- v. Otago Boys' High School—S.B.H.S. won 3-2.
- v. Gore High School—S.B.H.S. won 8-1.

In the Southland Senior First Grade Competition the S.B.H.S XI was in second place. The team gave a very creditable performance against Southland's senior teams and was victorious against all teams except Civil Service.

As part of our training we had several games against Girls' High which were enjoyed by both teams and provided incentives for some of the girls.

At this stage a special word of thanks must be directed to Mr. James; and the team acknowledges with much gratitude the very strenuous effort that Mr. James has made this season to coach the team. It is hoped that the team next year will be in the hands of Mr. James once again and the present team wishes him every success in the years to come.

Geoff Burns played for the Southland Men's team at the National Tournament and also played creditably against a touring Queensland side.

Geoff. Paterson, Geoff. Burns, David Annear and Brian Sherborne represented Southland in the Southland Colts team which played at the N.Z. Colts' Tournament in Invercargill.

The remaining members of the 1st XI represented Southland in the Southland Secondary Schools team.

Team Critique

Goalie—WAYNE BALLANTYNE: Played with defiance in an extremely hard position.

Left back—BRIAN SHERBORNE (Captain): Provided stern defence and his firm "on drives" often put the team back on attack. As Captain he gave the team the necessary encouragement.

Right back—ROY BUTLER: Played some good games and was exceptionally cool when under pressure from the opposition.

Left back—DAVID BALFOUR: A player to be reckoned with. A feature of his play was his sound stickwork which always left the opposition floundering.

Centre half—GEOFFREY BURNS: A good dribbler who always showed aggression when in control. He was often in the centre of action and often led dangerous and successful attacks.

Right half—DAVID ANNEAR: Played some good games in a position which requires exceptional fitness and good trapping and hitting.

Left wing—NEIL RILEY: Mounted some good attacks and improved his play, especially his centering shots, as the season progressed.

Right wing—GEOFFREY PATERSON: Extremely good on the attack and very dangerous in the circle. The real mainstay of the team.

Right inside—ROGER NEILSON: Played some vigorous games and often scored from incredible positions.

Centre forward—RICHARD SMITH: Quick off the mark from the bully and scored many amazing runaway goals.

SECOND ELEVEN

Captain: G. D. Johnstone Coach: M. Connor

The team started the 1971 season off successfully and kept the high standard of play up for the rest of the season, but faded away with the last few games. We only had one loss all season and that was the second last game, where we were beaten 2-0 by Hargest A. Other teams in our grade were Civil Service B and Southland College A. G. Johnstone and K. Sandri both played for the First Eleven on the odd occasion and gained valuable experience.

Our six-a-side team of G. Johnstone, K. Sandri, A. Labruyere, R. Barnett, K. Rayner and P. James won the six-a-side.

Our thanks go to M. Connor who gave us much of his valuable time and worthy advice. We would also like to congratulate him on making the New Zealand Minors hockey team.

The Southland Boys' High School 2nd XI for 1971 was: C. Cowie, R. Rayner, R. Barnett, K. Sandri, G. Johnstone, A. Labruyere, B. Sleeman, G. Jensen, P. James, C. Hay, R. Hockey.

THIRD ELEVEN

Captain: R. Jenner Coach: Mrs. Cox

Throughout the season we played seven games, winning four of these and coming runner-up in the end-of-season six-a-side.

The team was: R. Jenner (Captain), B. Evans, L. Henderson, N. Coaley, L. Blomfield, P. Adamson, D. Comer, W. Scobie, L. Buckingham, L. Mason, R. Frederick.

Our thanks go to Mrs. Cox for her coaching and time during the season.

Badminton

The growth of badminton in the School can be seen in the need this year to have two club sessions a week, instead of the one of previous years. With more seniors playing at the Army Hall on Wednesdays and juniors at the Surrey Park Hall on Fridays after school, the club gained much more depth of players.

This depth can be shown in the way the School has continued to dominate the local school competition. The School No. 1 team of Peter Skelt, Nigel Skelt, Michael Parmenter and Peter Brass, won the A Grade Competition, competing against teams from James Hargest, Marist and Southland College with an unbeaten record. The School No. 2 team of D. Small, S. Smith, I. Boys and K. Butler also did well in coming second in this grade, while the School No. 3 team of J. Dyer, G. Cowley, J. Stevenson and G. Murdoch won the B Grade Competition.

This year for the first time the School played two matches with schools from Otago, and this marked the full recognition of badminton as an official winter sport.

The first inter-school was against Otago Boys' High School on 20th May, and despite some confusion over the inclusion of badminton in the sporting fixture, a composite team arrived and some enjoyable games were played. S.B.H.S. won this match by 8 games to nil.

However, the match against King's High School at Dunedin was more evenly contested than the final score of 7-1 to S.B.H.S. would indicate. David Small and Stephen Smith increased the number in the team to six for the trip to Dunedin, and some close and very interesting games were played. Plans have been made for more matches with visiting schools next year, and this will provide a goal for some of the junior players.

This year the School Club again had good representation in outside competitions. Peter Skelt was selected for the Southland 1st Division, and played well against the visiting Australian team in August. Nigel Skelt and Michael Parmenter played in the Southland Under 18 team which did well in winning the Woolworths Trophy which is a mark of supremacy in South Island junior badminton.

In the New Zealand Under 16 championships, Nigel Skelt dominated the events by winning the Singles, Doubles and Mixed Doubles titles. Michael Lindsay did well to reach the final of the Under 14 Mixed Doubles.

In the finals of the South Island championships, Peter Skelt won the Singles title and partnered to win the Doubles and Mixed Doubles titles.

Although the top players did well during the year, it is not true to say that the strength of the School Club lies merely in these players; the coaching of Mr. Berridge, especially among the juniors, is shown in the way these players are beginning to challenge the positions held by the more experienced players, and also in the way they came through many of the local competitions.

Inter-Secondary Schools' Cross Country Championships

SUMMER SPORT

Cricket

FIRST ELEVEN

Captain: B. McKechnie Coach: Mr. G. D. Alabaster

The 1st XI this year had a most successful season. Not only did it win the local club competition by the wide margin of 36 points but it also performed exceedingly well in the three inter-school matches.

A feature of the batting this season was the ability of batsmen to become associated in partnerships, which is so essential in cricket. Some very fine partnerships were established, the biggest being the unbeaten century partnership against King's between Brian McKechnie and Ross Murdoch. All batsmen performed with credit and this augers well for the future.

With the departure of Richard Bunton, Phil Paris and Keith Laidlaw at Christmas, the bowling was left a little thin. However, John Flaus and Jim Stevenson emerged as bowlers of some talent, both performing with credit. Brian McKechnie and Geoff Murdoch both bowled well, especially in inter-schools where it was needed most.

The fielding at the beginning of the season was below standard but improved sharply as the season progressed. By the end of the season the fieldsmen were backing up the bowlers' efforts admirably.

Critique

J. M. FLAUS: Right-arm, medium-pace bowler and left-hand batsman. An aggressive bat with liking for cut and hook shots. Bowling will improve with practice. Excellent innings against O.B.H.S.

B. W. MCKENZIE: Right-hand batsman. Sound defence but will score more runs when he hits ball harder. Very reliable fieldsman.

J. S. STEVENSON: Right-arm off-spinner and right-hand bat. Didn't have best of seasons with bat because of tendency to attack every ball. Could develop into a very capable off-spinner. Very competent fieldsman.

D. R. MURDOCH: Left-hand batsman. A competent bat with a good range of strokes. Batted well against O.B.H.S. and K.H.S. Usually a reliable close-in fieldsman.

G. H. MURDOCH: Right-arm leg-spinner and right-hand bat. Has a very sound defence and good range of shots. Very good leg-spinner, bowling very well against King's. A dependable slip-fieldsman.

I. G. SINGLETON: Left-hand batsman and wicket-keeper. Likes to get on with game, this often leading to his downfall. As confidence grew, he became a competent wicket-keeper, taking some very good catches.

L. J. BROWN: Right-arm, medium-pace bowler and right-hand batsman. Likes to hit ball hard and should improve next season. Inaccuracy tended to spoil his bowling but improved as season progressed.

N. McARTHUR: Right-hand batsman. Although young and inexperienced, he showed that he had ability. With practice will be a bigger force next year.

J. D. ALABASTER: Right-hand batsman. Came into team late in season and therefore didn't receive many opportunities. Practice should bring about improvement in his all-round play.

P. G. BUGDEN: Right-hand bat. A keen and energetic player, he worked hard to improve his game and this should be noticed next season.

E. J. SOPER: Right-arm, medium-pace bowler. As a bowler he didn't receive many opportunities, nevertheless appeared to have ability. Practice in fielding could prove beneficial.

B. J. McKECHNIE: Right-arm, medium-pace bowler and right-hand batsman. Attacking bat who shared his capacity for scoring runs with brilliant innings against O.B.H.S. and K.H.S. His bowling and fielding were both of a similarly high standard. Again captained the side intelligently, handling a limited attack capably.

The team wishes to thank Mr. G. Alabaster for the time he spent with it and hopes that this season's performances have made it worth while.

INTER-SCHOOL GAMES

v. St. Andrew's at Invercargill, 1st-2nd December, 1970

St. Andrew's batted after winning the toss. A strong northerly wind made conditions difficult for bowlers especially, but at lunch St. Andrew's had progressed to 86 for five wickets. Immediately after lunch two quick wickets put S.B.H.S. in a strong position, but sensible batting from Ott (56) and Usher (38) enabled St. Andrew's to reach 215 before being dismissed. Bunton's effort of bowling 28 overs into the wind was highly commendable.

S.B.H.S. began its first innings at 4.45 p.m. and from the first over were in trouble. At stumps we had struggled to 27 for six wickets.

The next morning G. Murdoch and Bunton batted sensibly to take the score to 59. For St. Andrew's, Abbott achieved the remarkable figures of six wickets for 9 runs. Following a stern talk from Mr. G. Alabaster, S.B.H.S. second innings began well. An opening stand of 47 was followed up by some adventurous batting by Stevenson. This enabled S.B.H.S. to hold out and at stumps were 137 for five wickets.

v. O.B.H.S at Littlebourne, 15th-16th March, 1971

S.B.H.S. won the toss and batted. An opening stand of 62 set the scene for high scoring and this was certainly capitalised on by S.B.H.S. At lunch the score was 120 for two wickets. After lunch, Flaus and McKechnie continued to bat well until Flaus was finally out for a fine 81, thus ending a partnership of 97. McKechnie and R. Murdoch then became associated in a stand of 61. This was followed by several smaller stands until S.B.H.S. declared at 263 for eight wickets with McKechnie last out for 121.

O.B.H.S. began disastrously and with G. Murdoch bowling well they were 41 for four wickets at stumps.

Next morning S.B.H.S. continued to dominate and at lunch O.B.H.S. were 120 for nine. Immediately after lunch they were dismissed for 129. Forced to follow on, O.B.H.S. began their second innings the same way as the first. However, an unbeaten 112 by G. Williams put paid to any chance of an S.B.H.S. victory. At stumps O.B.H.S. were 167 for four wickets.

v. K.H.S. at Invercargill, 23rd-24th March, 1971

K.H.S. won the toss and batted. Some good bowling, especially by G. Murdoch, had King's struggling at lunch at 56 for five wickets. Immediately after lunch two quick wickets fell and K.H.S. never recovered, being dismissed at 2.30 p.m. for 96. Geoff Murdoch bowled extremely well to take six wickets for 37.

Flaus and McKenzie once again got S.B.H.S. away to a good start with Flaus being particularly aggressive. This was followed by an unbeaten stand of 80 between McKechnie and R. Murdoch. At stumps S.B.H.S. were in a commanding position of 152 for three wickets.

Next morning rain threatened and after half an hour's play players were forced off the field with S.B.H.S. 175 for three wickets.

Play was later abandoned, thus robbing S.B.H.S. of a possible victory.

INTER-SECONDARY SCHOOLS' ATHLETICS

School teams and individuals returned some most impressive performances in both the Southland and Otago-Southland meetings in what must have been one of our most successful years of competition. Of the four relay trophies competed for at the Southland meeting, the School won three and also captured one relay baton from the Otago-Southland meeting. In this latter meeting School teams were placed in three of the four shield divisions and had distinct possibilities of doing better if the weather had not forced the cancellation of several events.

Details of placed performances were:—

TENNIS TEAM

Back row: I. N. Boniface, J. D. S. Walker

Front row: M. S. Bell, C. D. Jakeway (Captain), N. D. Boniface

Absent: R. A. Bowie, B. M. McLean

This was a comparatively light year in terms of success but tennis is still a popular sport in the School.

The main event of the season was the inter-school fixture against Otago Boys'. We were soundly beaten, but with a little more luck the result would have been much closer. The final score was 16 rubbers to 5 in favour of Otago Boys'. C. Jakeway and R. Bowie turned in a number of good performances.

In the Southland Secondary Schools' Championships C. Jakeway and N. Boniface won the Senior Doubles, defeating R. Bowie and B. McLean in the finals.

A number of promising juniors including R. Hesson, R. Fowler, M. Stewart and G. Cowie should enable the School team to be a strong combination in future seasons.

The Players

C. JAKEWAY (Captain): Has good strokes, more aggressive in his play this year. Good games against Otago Boys'.

B. McLEAN: Has a fine serve and strong ground strokes, but too often attempted to hit winners with every stroke.

R. BOWIE: Steady player with a strong fighting temperament. Good Doubles player.

N. BONIFACE: Strokes the ball well but play suffered through rather weak serve.

I. BONIFACE: Promising, but needs to move around the court much more. Will be an asset next year.

M. BELL: Has considerable potential but must concentrate on improving his serve.

I am pleased, in presenting the ninetieth annual report of Southland Boys' High School, to record a most successful year in all activities of the School. In academic work and results, in cultural and sporting activities, and in its good discipline and spirit the School has more than maintained its position as one of the leading schools of New Zealand. I wish to express my appreciation of the hard work of the staff, of the major contribution made by the boys, and of the support given by parents, the Old Boys' Association, and the Board in achieving this.

In spite of a few changes, the staffing of the School has been more stable than for many years, and since October we have had a full staff of permanently appointed teachers for the roll predicted for 1972.

I especially want to thank those staff who have carried extra burdens during the year, particularly Mr. Thyne, Mr. Scott and Mr. J. C. Alabaster who took early morning classes. I wish to thank the women staff members who have contributed so much to the work and life of the School—we are pleased to have a number of them on the permanent staff. I particularly appreciate the work of the Heads of Departments in directing the professional work of the School. I thank Mr. J. C. Alabaster, who from time to time during Mr. Martin's absences and illness has acted most competently as Deputy Principal.

This year the boys themselves have taken a very active part in organising School activities and the School spirit has been very good—the Work Day which raised $3,000 towards the new gymnasium project, the Tour Committee in raising funds for the First XV's tour of the North Island, and at the end of the year a "pop" concert organised by senior boys enabled a donation to be made to the Commonwealth Games appeal. Senior boys have played a very active part in running, organising and controlling School activities, such as shooting, rowing and athletics, social activities, making nominations and recommendations for awards and prizes; and the Junior School are taking an increasing part in School affairs through the Junior Council. I am very pleased that the Parent Teacher Association has seen fit to co-opt two senior boys to the Executive Committee this year.

Backing up the many boys concerned in organising School activities is the majority who set high standards themselves and are prepared to maintain those set by the School. As a consequence we have far fewer worries over discipline than most schools. We do have a small percentage at all levels who are in conflict with what the School stands for, and almost invariably the causes are found outside the School. These boys fall into two groups:

- (1) those from homes where the stresses of personal relationships and of modern society are not coped with;
- (2) those from affluent homes where materialistic outlooks and over-permissive attitudes hold sway.

Where the home and the school are in close touch and lines of communication with the boys are open there is every opportunity for us to cope with educational and social problems that concern us all. Our education system has moved over a century from stress on literacy, to education for a vocation, to a major concern with how to cope with life in an urban industrial society. Within a generation there has been a major shift of emphasis in education that parents and the community find hard to accept. However, in encouraging young people to "do their own thing" the School stresses that they have no monopoly of honesty, integrity and idealism, and that the society they inherit has its achievements as well as its failures.

Junior School

With a reduced intake this year we applied the benefit in the Junior School and reduced class sizes, the largest Third Form having a roll of 27. Although the intake for 1972 has increased, we have set a maximum class size for next year of 28 throughout Third and Fourth Forms.

As has been our practice for many years, we have not had a course organisation in the Junior School and have not permitted specialisation till after School Certificate. We propose a reorganisation over the next two years to give a broader choice of non-academic subjects to boys and will follow the lines at present under discussion in P.P.T.A. and in the Department of Education. We have already extended physical education to include theory and health education and propose replacing core art, craft and music with selected courses taken to a greater depth.

Last year's School Certificate results were excellent and the single subject pass system does encourage greater effort generally. It serves as an incentive for the boy prepared to work, whatever his level of ability. We have, however, a small group of boys who lack the incentive to work and who spent a year at school with the intention of sitting one or two subjects—in general, their year at school is wasted time and they would gain more satisfaction from taking the plunge and going to work.

Senior School

The award of five University Junior Scholarships in two years, including three last year, strongly supported by Bursary awards, is a record few schools in the country and none in Otago or Southland, can match.

These results are, moreover, not achieved as a result of special classes, forcing or accelerating boys, or sacrificing educational goals for examination results. They come from high-quality students prepared to work hard and staff who give their utmost.

I support the single subject award system for Sixth Form Certificate and moves to introduce the single subject pass system for University Entrance, but the two systems must be integrated. The Universities Entrance Board proposals, as indicated in the trial single subject accrediting scheme Principals have this year been asked to apply, is quite incompatible with the system of the Sixth Form Certificate awards.

The most notable curriculum change has been the introduction this year of accountancy and economics in Form 7 as Bursary subjects. This should have far-reaching effects—it will make commerce a top-level academic course—in our case from Third Form level—and it will break the dominance of the mathematics-science specialisation in the Senior School. With two well-qualified teachers, Mr. East and Mr. McIntosh, in this field we have been able to develop the course from the start.

Extra-curricular Activities

Many of the cultural activities of the School are closely linked with curricular activities as well as occupying staff and boys outside school hours. Mr. McIntosh, those assisting him off stage, and the cast staged a very successful dramatic production "Ned Kelly" at the end of Term 2. Two musical groups, classical and "pop", represented the School at the N.Z. Chamber Music Federation's contests in Dunedin, and the "pop" group has been active in social activities and informal concerts. School debating teams have been active in very many inter-school contests and the No. 2 team won the Southland Competitions Society's secondary schools debating trophy. Art has continued to be strong, two boys from the School being selected for the National Bank's art workshop week in Wellington and Brent Hagen winning the N.Z. Chamber Music Federation's programme design award.

School sporting activities are considered an offshoot of our physical education programme, and if at all possible boys are expected to take part in one or more sports. Few people realise the range of sports catered for in the School or the high standards achieved overall. In only two sports do School First teams play Southland schools and in many cases they are competing in senior or open men's grades.

In cricket the First XI are Senior Reserve Grade champions, in rowing the School crews share Otago-Southland honours with Otago Boys' High School, in shooting our team was fourth in the National Rifle Association's secondary schools' championship at Trentham, and in cycling a School team competing in the Sir Bernard Fergusson trophy event at Levin was fourth. The School holds the Collegiate trophy for inter-secondary school swimming. In winter sports the First Rugby XV won the S.R.F.U. Third Grade competition and was undefeated in its inter-school fixtures and in its North Island tour. The Second XV playing local secondary schools was runner-up in the Fourth Grade, and Sixth and Seventh Grade XV's won their championships. Both First and Second Soccer XI's play in Senior Men's Grades, and the Fifth Grade A XI won its competition. The First Hockey XI plays in the open Senior Grade. In harriers, School teams won all four secondary schools' cross-country teams events. Badminton is now an official School sport and two players are top national ranking players. In addition, School teams have top-level performances in indoor basketball, athletics, tennis and fencing. We greatly appreciate the work of staff members and some parents who spend much time in coaching and supervising teams and groups.

We take even greater pride in the conduct awards won for the School. The first four rugby teams won the Southland Referees' Association's Jubilee Cup, the First and Second Soccer XI's won the conduct cups for their grades, and the First Hockey XI was runner-up for the Senior Men's Conduct Cup.

Coldstream

It is pleasing to note that "Coldstream" has overcome the financial and management problems of the last few years, and our thanks go to Mrs. E. S. King, hostel manageress, and the staff for their work in controlling the hostel.

We are concerned, however, that the admission of students attending James Hargest High School may result in the exclusion of boys wishing to attend this School. Previous Boards have always looked on "Coldstream" as an integral part of Southland Boys' High School, and we have taken great pride in having it as such. The establishment of "Coldstream" was for many years a dream of this School, a previous Rector, Dr. G. Uttley, even set up on his own initiative a boarding establishment in the Rectory, at one stage the foundations for a School hostel were laid out on what is now No. 1 rugby ground, and the realisation of the dream came about through the determined efforts of parents, of the Southland Boys' High School Old Boys' Association, and of Mr. D. A. McDonald, Chairman of the Board, and himself an Old Boy of the School. In recent years much of the laying-out of grounds has been done by the Rector and the Old Boys' Association.

The Board's drastic action, necessary as it was this year, was taken only after warnings over the previous three years of the situation developing. If the admission of James Hargest students is continued on the present basis parents wishing their sons to attend Southland Boys' High School must continue to look, as they have done for fifteen years since "Coldstream's" establishment, to schools outside Southland because of uncertainty of acceptance here. This is of particular concern to boys wishing to take agriculture and commerce, courses offered by this School only. I have offered this year, and expect next year to have to assist parents in finding private board for boys enrolled at Southland Boys' High School if accommodation is not available at "Coldstream".

Some claims have been made that hostel accommodation should be available for students wishing to attend co-educational schools. The educational opportunities for such students are far greater than for those wishing to attend Southland Boys' High School and Southland Girls' High School. A major source of boarders for "Coldstream" was the Central Southland area, now catered for by Central Southland College, and Menzies College will in the same way increasingly cater for such students in its contributing area. Gore High School is a co-educational school whose hostel is facing financial difficulties, and our contributing areas overlap considerably in the north and the east.

Furthermore, Education Department policies on bus transport for country students will ultimately, with the move of Southland College to the Waikiwi area, prevent country students from attending the two central single sex schools.

It is essential, therefore, that the Board give priority of acceptance at "Coldstream" to students wishing to attend Southland Boys' High School, and that it pursue a very active policy of attracting to "Coldstream" those who continue to enrol at schools outside Southland.

Parent Teacher Association

I must express our very great appreciation of the financial support, the interest, and the loyalty of the Parent Teacher Association and of the work done by the President, Mr. F. W. Mark, and the Executive of the Association. Parent Teacher Association donations to School prizes are very substantial and so, too, are their contributions to the purchase of equipment. Parent Teacher Association support will enable us to set up a School canteen next year, and Parent Teacher Association action has made a major contribution to dealing with malicious gossip that beset the School last year. A strong Parent Teacher Association with an intimate interest in the professional side of the School, and in the welfare of the students, is more essential to the School than ever as the Board, of necessity, in controlling five schools becomes increasingly concerned with the administration of education generally.

General

For the last twenty years the educational system of New Zealand has been co-educational. In Southland there are six co-educational and two single sex schools and of necessity the majority of students must attend co-educational schools. Single sex schools for the last twenty years have accepted that they are a minority group, and have wasted no time on futile arguments. They have got on with the job, welcoming the growth of competition, adjusting curricula and methods to modern approaches, and building on their successful traditions to continue achieving first-class results.

On the other side, the single sex schools have to cope with at least a lack of sympathy and often a downright determination to "cut them down to size" in educational circles, whether these are in the Education Department, in P.P.T.A. and teachers' organisations, or among academic educationalists. With the growth of large co-educational schools they are increasingly suffering staffing penalties. P.P.T.A. recently carried out an investigation on the size of schools; instead of an education policy on sizes and staffing of schools has come a decision that single sex schools would be restricted in roll to below 1,000, and that co-educational schools over 1,000 should be given special staffing allowances. From professional educational circles in universities and teachers' colleges come almost continuous attacks on single sex schools, most of them being attacks on a system that no longer exists. Time and again the presentation of goals and ideals accepted by most educationalists, and examinations of the deficiencies of the past, are diverted into attacks on single sex schools. Very often venom is added to the attacks by jealousy of the outstanding success that these schools continue to have as they adopt new approaches and philosophies. This School and other single sex schools have no intention of becoming the victims of a well-known weakness of the New Zealand character—an intolerance of the outstanding, and a determination to reduce the excellent to mediocrity.

For ninety years Southland Boys' High School has held a dominant position in the educational life of Southland. Its staff before and after World War II were some of the prime movers in the educational revolution that produced the Tlomas Report and the system that has developed today. In recent years staff of Southland Boys' High School have, with small groups throughout the country, pioneered new approaches in the sciences, in mathematics, in social studies, in languages, and in guidance work. Their contribution to the cultural education of young people in art, and, in association with Southland Girls' High School, in drama, in musical activities, and in the social life of its students has been outstanding. The approach we are developing in physical education is years ahead of most of New Zealand schools.

We have met and will continue to meet the challenges of new methods, new approaches, and new philosophies, and we will continue to maintain without compromise the standards which the School has maintained throughout its history.

L. M. CORNWELL, Rector.
